This decision may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course for failing to have the necessary prerequisites.

Course Description
This course is a comprehensive introduction to the dramatic works of one of the most influential writers and dramatists who has ever lived: William Shakespeare. Students will read twelve plays that exemplify the full range of Shakespeare’s dramatic genres - History, Comedy, Tragedy, and Romance/Tragicomedy - from the beginnings of Shakespeare’s dramatic career through to its conclusion. Emphasis throughout is placed on understanding the generic and formal aspects of the plays; attention is also paid to the play’s literary and other sources, as well as to some of the historical and political contexts in which Shakespeare operated as a dramatist. The course furthermore engages with elements of stage-craft and performance history, and also touches upon psychoanalytic, feminist, post-colonial, and some other literary-theoretical approaches to Shakespeare’s dramatic works.

Objectives:
Successful students who complete the course will be able to:

- Learn to analyze many of the prominent formal features of twelve representative plays by Shakespeare;
- Become familiar with the defining features of the major generic divisions within Shakespeare’s body of dramatic work;
- Learn about the sources of Shakespeare’s plays in prior literary works and early modern English history, and about the performance history of the plays;
- Acquaint themselves with some of the prominent theoretical approaches to Shakespeare’s work;
- Become acquainted with the historical, political and cultural back-drop within which Shakespeare plied his craft;
- Learn to effectively communicate their ideas about Shakespeare’s plays in writing through discussion posts and persuasive essays.

Assignments:
Papers: Further information about these assignments will be posted to the course website at the beginning of the course. However, Paper 1 will be 1250 words in length; Paper 2, 2500 words in length. Paper 1 will require you to write on one play, while paper 2 will require you to compare and contrast at least 2 plays from the course readings. Paper 1 will be worth 10% of your final grade for the course; paper 2, 25%.

Performance Report: More detailed information about this assignment will be posted to the course website at the beginning of the course. However, it will be 1250 words in length, and you will be asked to give an account of a performance of one of the plays we are studying in the course that performance can either be theatrical, or a film or televised version of the play. The Performance Report will be worthy 10% of your final grade for the course.

Quizzes: These will be available to be taken online following the units which they cover (each quiz covers two units of the course). Each quiz will take no more than 10 minutes; they will consist of ten multiple choice questions on the plays you have read for the units in question. You may consult your readings over the course of taking a quiz. They are designed to help keep you on track with your readings - if you have done the readings, you should have little to no difficulty with them. The total cumulative grade for all of the quizzes is 10% of the final grade for the course.

Forum Participation: Each unit will be accompanied by a corresponding discussion forum which addresses your reading of the play and the lecture materials for that unit; you will be expected to contribute to these forums on a regular basis. The exact manner in which you will be graded on your contributions to these forums will be published to the course website at the beginning of the course. The total grade for your participation in the forums will consist of 10% of the final grade for the course.

Exam: The final exam for the course will be held during the exam period. The exam will be cumulative. It will consist of a section of identifications of passages from the plays, in which you will also be asked to comment on the significance of a number of those passages, a section of short essays on individual plays, and a section wherein you will choose three plays from the readings and compare and contrast them on an assigned topic. More specific information about the exam will be posted to the course website as we approach the end of the course and the exam period. The final exam is worth 35% of the final grade for the course.

Late Policy: All written assignments are due no later than 11:55 p.m. on the date in question; any assignment received after that time will be marked late, and will be deducted 5% per business and week-end day. No written assignment will be allowed to be submitted later than two weeks after the original due date for the assignment.
Accommodation
Students seeking academic accommodation on medical grounds for any missed tests, exams, participation components and/or assignments worth 10% or more of their final grade must apply to the Academic Counselling office of their home Faculty and provide documentation. Academic accommodation cannot be granted by the instructor or department. Documentation shall be submitted, as soon as possible, to the Office of the Dean of the student’s Faculty of registration, together with a request for relief specifying the nature of the accommodation being requested. The UWO Policy on Accommodation for Medical Illness and further information regarding this policy can be found at http://uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/accommodation_medical.pdf.

Academic Offences
Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, at http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/scholastic_discipline_undergrad.pdf

Plagiarism:
Students must write their essays and assignments in their own words. Whenever students take an idea or passage from another author, they must acknowledge their debt both by using quotation marks where appropriate and by proper referencing such as footnotes or citations. Plagiarism is a major academic offence.

Plagiarism Checking:
All required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for the detection of plagiarism. All papers submitted for such checking will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system. Use of the service is subject to the licensing agreement, currently between The University of Western Ontario and Turnitin.com http://www.turnitin.com.
