

THE CENTRE FOR ENVIRONMENT AND SUSTAINABILITY
AND THE DEPARTMENT OF GEOGRAPHY PRESENTS:

DR. GLEN M. MACDONALD:

CLIMATEGATE, RECESSION
AND THE FUTURE OF
CLIMATE CHANGE POLICY

– THE VIEW FROM CALIFORNIA –

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 7

3:30 – 5:00 PM, North Campus Building Room 114

Glen MacDonald, Director of the University of California Institute of the Environment and Presidential Chair, Professor of Geography and Ecology and Evolutionary Biology, holds a particular interest in the nexus of scientific research, communication, resource management, policy and enterprise that is required to tackle the environmental and sustainability challenges of the 21st century.

Dr. Glen M. MacDonald will also speak on “But it’s a Dry Heat...Climate Change and Water Challenges in Western North American and Beyond” October 6, from 7 to 8 PM, UCC 37 (Reception to follow in SSC 3036)

Everyone Welcome to both events

