CLINICAL ACADEMIC POSITION
CLINICIAN SCIENTIST IN PAEDIATRIC PRECISION/PERSOALIZED MEDICINE
Department of Paediatrics, Western University, Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry

The Department of Paediatrics, Children's Hospital, London Health Sciences Centre and Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry, Western University, is seeking a Clinician Scientist in Paediatric Precision/Personalized Medicine to provide leadership in clinical and translational research in Precision/Personalized Medicine in the Department of Paediatrics as part of our University-wide program in Precision/Personalized Medicine. The Department of Paediatrics provides comprehensive acute care, ambulatory and in-patient services for children to a population of 2 million in southwestern Ontario. Children with a full range of care issues are managed in our Paediatric Emergency Department, Paediatric Critical Care Unit, Neonatology Unit and in-patient Clinical Teaching Units. The Department has a number of research initiatives for children ranging in age from pre-term neonates to adolescents. The Department is very active in undergraduate, postgraduate and continuing medical education. The Department has a Royal College accredited program in Paediatric Clinical Pharmacology. The University of Western Ontario has the largest Division of Clinical Pharmacology in North America and has a large and highly productive program in Precision and Personalized Medicine as well as the largest Clinical Pharmacology residency in Canada and an active graduate program in Pharmacology and Physiology.

Western University delivers an academic experience second to none. Western challenges the best and brightest faculty, staff and students to commit to the highest global standards. Our research excellence expands knowledge and drives discovery with real-world application. Western attracts individuals with a broad worldview, seeking to study, influence and lead in the international community. Since 1878, The Western Experience has combined academic excellence with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social and cultural growth in order to better serve our communities. Western is a research-intensive institution with a wide range of academic and professional programs (see http://www.uwo.ca) to learn more. Western’s Recruitment and Retention Office is available to assist in the transition of successful applicants and their families.

Candidates for this position must have an MD or equivalent degree and must be eligible for licensing in the Province of Ontario. Advanced training and experience in research is required. Subspecialty certification in Paediatric Clinical Pharmacology from the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada or equivalent is required. Expertise/experience in Precision Medicine would be a useful skill. The successful candidate will be a Clinician Scientist, and hold a full-time Limited Term Clinical Academic appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor or Associate Professor, or a Continuing Clinical Academic appointment at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor, depending upon qualifications and experience at the time of appointment. Successful candidates will have a keen interest and expertise in pharmacology and translational research, the ability to collaborate effectively with a wide range of members of the research and health care team and office staff, and will be expected to lead in team-based research. The successful candidate will be expected to secure and hold external research funding. The successful candidate will also be expected to contribute to teaching, both at the undergraduate and postgraduate level and to supervise graduate trainees.

Compensation for this position will be primarily composed of an alternative funding plan and academic salary. The anticipated start date for this position is to be negotiated.

Please submit your application, including curriculum vitae, Letter of Interest/Statement of Academic Qualifications, and names and contact information of three references to:
