The Department of Medicine, Division of Hematology, Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry, at Western University and London Health Sciences Centre and St. Joseph’s Health Care Centre are seeking a Hematologist with at least two years’ experience in Stem Cell Transplant/Leukemia for a full-time clinical academic appointment to Western University. Applicants should be certified, or eligible for certification, in Hematology by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada, or equivalent. Candidates must have an MD, or equivalent, and must be eligible for licensure in the province of Ontario. The successful candidate will hold a limited term academic appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor or Associate Professor, or a continuing academic appointment at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor depending on qualifications and experience.

Western University delivers an academic experience second to none. Western challenges the best and brightest faculty, staff and students to commit to the highest global standards. Our research excellence expands knowledge and drives discovery with real-world application. Western attracts individuals with a broad worldview, seeking to study, influence and lead in the international community. Since 1878, The Western Experience has combined academic excellence with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social and cultural growth in order to better serve our communities.

The Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry at Western University is one of Canada’s preeminent medical and dental schools. Established in 1881, it was one of the founding schools of Western University and is known for being the birthplace of family medicine in Canada. For more than 130 years, the School has demonstrated a commitment to academic excellence and a passion for scientific discovery. Throughout its history, Schulich Medicine & Dentistry has helped educate generations of physicians, dentists, scholars and scientists whose collective work has transformed the practice of medicine and dentistry, here in Canada and around the world. Faculty, students and alumni continue to fulfill their responsibilities as global leaders by sharing their knowledge and expertise for the benefit of all.

The Division of Hematology currently has 11 members and is well-recognized and respected both nationally and internationally. The Division’s physicians provide the whole range of hematologic services including all malignant hematology (leukemia, lymphoma, and myeloma), thrombosis and hemophilia services as well as laboratory service in Southwestern Ontario and beyond. The Division has a fully certified Royal College Subspecialty Training Program in the Department of Medicine.

The successful candidate will join an expanding stem cell transplant program in Southwestern Ontario serving a population of 1.5 million. The stem cell program is expected to double in size within the next 3 to 5 years. The successful candidate will have a demonstrated record of research and publication and will be expected to maintain and support ongoing divisional research activities. The successful candidate will also have a commitment to and demonstrated aptitude for teaching, and will be expected to teach at the undergraduate and graduate levels and to supervise graduate trainees.

Consideration of applicants will include an assessment of previous performance, qualifications, including qualifications which go beyond the requirements for the position, and experience.
Compensation for this position will be commensurate with qualifications and experience and will be primarily composed of fee for service, alternative funding and payment plan, and academic salary.

Those interested in applying for this position should email a statement of interest, curriculum vitae, at least three letters of reference, and also complete, sign and include the form at the following link: http://uwo.ca/facultyrelations/physicians/Application_FullTime_Clinical.pdf to:
