The Department of Medicine, Division of Cardiology, Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry, at Western University, London Health Sciences Centre and St. Joseph’s Health Care is seeking a physician for a full-time clinical academic appointment to Western University. Applicants should be certified, or eligible for certification, in Cardiology by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada, or equivalent. Candidates must have an MD, or equivalent, and must be eligible for licensure in the province of Ontario. The successful candidate will be appointed at the rank of Professor with a continuing appointment.

Western University is situated in picturesque London, Ontario, a city with a metropolitan census of 530,000 along the banks of the Thames River. The City of London is a vibrant community with many family-friendly amenities and has one of the lowest cost of living rates in Ontario. Western University is a prominent academic institution that has made a commitment to balance its teaching and research mission and excel as a research-intensive university. General information about the University can be found at www.westernu.ca.

The Division of Cardiology is well-recognized and respected both nationally and internationally. The Division’s 30 full-time physicians provide secondary, tertiary and quaternary cardiovascular services for the City of London, Southwestern Ontario and beyond. The Division has the largest Royal College Subspecialty Training Program in the Department of Medicine. Research expertise within the Division is extensive.

Preference will be given to candidates with at least Level 3 fellowship training in echocardiography and additional formal training and certification in CMR and CTA. The successful candidate will have a minimum of five years of experience (post training) in clinical cardiology and cardiac imaging. The successful candidate will also have significant administrative experience in cardiac imaging to enable her/him to be able to assume a leadership role in cardiac imaging. In addition, the successful candidate will have demonstrated research experience and productivity within the field of cardiac imaging and will have already demonstrated the ability to establish an independent career in research. The successful candidate will be expected to continue their research commitment and advance the research program within the Cardiac Imaging group as well as the Division of Cardiology. Applicants for this position will have a commitment to, and demonstrated aptitude, for teaching and will be expected to teach at the undergraduate and graduate levels and to supervise graduate trainees.

Compensation for this position will be commensurate with qualifications and experience and will primarily include fee for service, alternative funding plan and academic salary.

Interested candidates should submit a letter of intent, a curriculum vitae, along with at least three names of references, and also complete, sign and include the form at the following link: http://uwo.ca/facultyrelations/physicians/Application_FullTime_Clinical.pdf

Consideration of applicants will include an assessment of previous performance, qualifications, including those qualifications which go beyond the requirements for the position, and experience. Please note that references will not be contacted until your approval is received:
