N4320 Professional, Ethical, and Legal Obligations in Nursing: A Critical Appraisal

Calendar description:

This course will critically review ethical theories, the legal and ethical aspects of nurses’ roles, and nursing’s commitment to healthy public policy, social justice, and advocacy.

Expanded description:

This course is organized based on the College of Nurses of Ontario (CNO) Conceptual Framework for Organizing Competencies (CNO, 2014). In this course, learners will critically examine professional practice issues specifically focused on professionalism, nursing regulation, practice standards, ethical and legal aspects of nursing. This course also examines the evolving roles within nursing and addresses professional responsibility and accountability to healthy public policy, social justice, advocacy and patient safety. This course integrates multiple ways of knowing with emphasis on emancipatory knowing.

Course Goals:

1. Examine the leadership and professional culture of the nursing profession
2. Reflect on the historical and contemporary issues and trends in nursing and explore the influence of social, political, and personal power structures in assuming professional roles
3. Develop in-depth understanding of health professional legislation and nursing regulation including professional requirements as outlined in the CNO Professional Standards & Standards of Practice for Registered Nurses; CNO Ethical Values, and the CNA Code of Ethics for Registered Nurses
4. Critically examine selected moral, ethical and legal issues influencing nurses’ ability and capacity to provide ethical, safe, knowledge-based quality health care from a health promotion and caring perspective in a variety of settings and contexts, and with a diverse client population across the life span
5. Develop an understanding of the fundamental elements of patient safety and nursing’s role in contributing to a culture of patient safety.
6. Engage in learning activities with colleagues that promote debate, collaboration, consultation, cohesion, critical thinking, caring and reflection
7. Incorporate scholarship and critical reflection skills into one’s own learning and nursing practice
8. Apply a reflective, inquisitive, self-evaluative, responsible, and accountable attitude and behavior with a commitment to lifelong learning
Major Concepts in the Course:

- Clients
- Health and Healthcare Policy
- Social Justice
- Professionalism: Accountability, Self-regulation
- Ethical Practice
- Communication
- Collaboration
- Relational Practice
- Critical Reflection
- Advocacy
- Social Determinants of Health
- Political Influences
- Patient Safety

National Nursing Entry-to-Practice Competencies (CNO, 2014) addressed in the course:

- Professional Responsibility and Accountability – 1-4, 7-9, 12-13, 18, 19, 22, 23
- Knowledge-based Practice - 24, 25, 32,
- Ethical Practice – 77, 78, 80-86
- Service to the Public 87, 88, 93
- Self-Regulation 95-100

Interprofessional Competencies (CIHC, 2010) addressed in the course:

- Learners/practitioners understand their own role and the roles of those in other professions, and use this knowledge appropriately to establish and achieve patient/client/family and community goals.
- Learners/practitioners understand the principles of team work dynamics and group/team processes to enable effective interprofessional collaboration.

Nursing Informatics Competencies (CASN, 2012) addressed in the course:

- Use relevant information and knowledge to support the delivery of evidence-informed patient care.
- Use information and communication technologies in accordance with professional and regulatory standards and workplace policies.
- Use information and communication technologies in the delivery of patient/client care.
How this course will contribute to your development as a professional nurse:

This course provides opportunities to explore nursing as a profession, including professional rights and responsibilities, as well as legal and ethical parameters. The course promotes the learners’ understanding of the purpose and function of professional nursing regulatory organizations and associations, particularly in relation to ethical and legal elements of professional practice and the maintenance and improvement of the standards of care. Knowledge of course concepts is integrated through interactive learning activities, including class lecture/discussion, guest speakers, and analysis of case studies, among other learning strategies. These learning activities are designed to engage learners in critical reflection of professionalization, professionalism, and the professional practice of nursing. Opportunities will be provided for learners to reflect on their professional growth as beginning practitioners and to share their own nursing practice experiences with others.

How this course will contribute to your development as an interprofessional team member:

This course will provide students with insights as to how nurses enact their professional, legal and ethical obligations within an interprofessional environment. Learners will explore how professional standards guide their interactions with other members of the interprofessional team.

How we will work together:

In this course, learning and teaching are a shared responsibility. The instructor’s role is to guide, facilitate and support learning. As a learner, it is expected that you will be prepared to actively engage in weekly dialogue and reflective, critical thought. The course and accompanying learning activities are designed to foster discussion, debate, and critical examination of concepts relevant to professional, legal, and ethical aspects of nursing practice. Weekly attendance is expected since small group and class discussions will facilitate learning, and your active participation will support, not only your own but also your colleagues’ learning. In order to create an interactive learning environment, learners will be asked to share within groups, and at times with the larger class, their understanding of course material, their experiences, and to engage in reflection on their learning.

Opportunities to Demonstrate Learning

1. Midterm exam – 25% (Week 6)
The midterm exam will be conducted during class time in Week 6 and will cover course content, its application and readings from weeks 1 through 5 inclusive.

2. Group Case Study Assignment – 20% (due Week 8)
The purposes of this assignment are for you to explore, critically analyze, and respond to a current ethical and legal issue facing the profession in today’s health care context. This assignment will reflect your ability to work as a group and to apply course theory and concepts to professional nursing practice. A case scenario and instructions will be posted on the course site on a pre-specified date. Groups of 3-4 student colleagues (sign up on course web site) will work as a team to engage with the case material and answer accompanying questions. Health professional literature as well as standards and guidelines from nursing’s regulatory body and professional association will be used to inform and support the case analysis.

3. Lifelong Learning Plan – 10% (in-class assignment Week 11)
The purposes of this assignment are for you to familiarize yourself with the process of meeting the Quality Assurance requirements for the College of Nurses of Ontario.

You will use a template similar to the CNO Self-Assessment and Learning Plan forms and complete these, using the SMART goal method as part of the assignment. This assignment will be completed during class in Week 11 and submitted.

4. Final Exam - 45% (final exam period)
The final exam will be based on course content, readings, and guest speakers’ content. The final exam will focus primarily on application of topics learned in this course. Date, time and location of the exam TBA.

Students and faculty are required to read the Undergraduate Programs Manual and be familiar with its contents. The Program Manual is available for Western students on OWL in the Undergraduate Student Information (https://owl.uwo.ca), and for Fanshawe students Online in the Collaborative Program virtual homeroom at www.fanshawonline.ca

Policies
All policies related to assignments are in the Undergraduate Programs Manual on the Western web site at owl.uwo.ca and on the Fanshawe College web site in the Program manual located in the Virtual Home Room at www.fanshawonline.ca Please read the policies on Accommodation for Medical Illness-Undergraduate Students and Student Medical Certificate.

Scholarly Requirements
In this program, scholarly writing is a requirement. Therefore, all scholarly papers will follow the sixth edition of the Publication manual of the American Psychological Association (2010), which includes guidelines for both content and format. In addition, all other writing will follow APA (6th ed.) format when citing or referring to an author’s work or ideas. Failure to do so is unethical and is plagiarism.

Plagiarism
Student work is expected to be original. Plagiarism is a serious academic offence and could lead to expulsion from the nursing program. You are plagiarizing if you insert a phrase, sentence or paragraph taken directly from another author without acknowledging the work to belong to him/her. Similarly, you are plagiarizing if you paraphrase or summarize another author’s ideas without acknowledging that the ideas belong to someone else. You are self-plagiarizing when you reuse all or part of an assignment that you previously submitted. Students can not present their credited work as new scholarship. You may be asked to submit your work, at the discretion of the course instructor, to turnitin.com to verify originality (see Scholastic Offence Policy in the Western Academic Calendar or Fanshawe College Policy Manual).

Electronic Devices
Electronic devices are useful in assisting with the teaching/learning process in both classroom and professional practice settings. In the classroom or praxis setting, devices should be used in a manner that is not distracting to others or oneself.
Attendance
Due to the significance of theoretical and practice knowledge in developing professional competence, students are expected to demonstrate professional responsibility through regular attendance at, and, participation in all scheduled learning activities. Much of the learning that takes place is a result of preparation and engagement with the material and active dialogue with colleagues and faculty.
