COURSE DESCRIPTION
An in-depth investigation into the historical and scientific nature of mental health and well-being, with a focus on the role of emotion and spirituality in recovery from cancer, trauma, and addiction. Special attention will be paid to elucidating the neurophysiological and psychological underpinnings of emotion and its relation to affectivity more generally. Specific topics may include: definitions and theories of recovery; role of emotions and spiritual experience in recovery; the scientific underpinnings of mindfulness meditation; the distinction between positive and negative emotions; some indigenous approaches to healing and recovery (mainly Australasian Maori, Native American); a brief examination of cross-cultural issues relating to addiction and recovery in China.

CLASS STRUCTURE
This is a seminar course with a 2 hours of formal teaching and an additional hour for student questions, and discussion, that will be used as needed.

COURSE OBJECTIVES
• Introduce students to historical and philosophical aspects of recovery;
• Encourage students to formulate and defend their own views on that topic;
• Practice and improve critical thinking, reading, writing, and speaking skills;
• Foster professional skills and attitudes in all aspects of the course.

TO CONSIDER
• This is an ‘essay’ designated course with considerable reading and writing requirements.
• This is not a typical lecture course but rather a seminar course where you must largely teach yourself by practicing reading, writing, and communication skills and learn from participation.
• Class participation is required in this seminar course and regular attendance is mandatory. (See relevant provisions in the Academic Calendar.) Attendance will be noted.

• Films play an essential role in the course, as they provide us with a real-life clinical perspective on the problems and issues we are discussing, which unfortunately we cannot witness first hand. Consider this the ‘empirical evidence’ or ‘data’ for the phenomena we are discussing.

COURSE TEXTS

• Assorted Articles on Western Owl Course Web Site, also available through UWO Library Catalogue

WEEKLY COMMENTARIES
Commentaries are small essay assignments and discussion stimulants written by students that may be read to the class by the instructor. They are meant to provide an in-depth analysis of some aspect(s) of weekly readings as well as writing practice for students. Each student will submit 3 weekly commentaries, each due on a specific week. Commentaries must address weekly readings and can only be handed in on the week those readings are scheduled for discussion. No outside references are permitted.

Commentaries must directly address weekly readings for the week they are assigned for and raise one, two, or three points of interest for reflection and discussion: for example, things that surprised you, and why; things you agree or disagree with, and why; things you find confusing and why (plus suggested solutions). Commentaries must make at least five direct citations to weekly readings using the Chicago Manual of Style 16th Edition Author-Date in-text citation. (You can search Google or UWO library sites for this.) See your reference librarian for help with this if you need it or the Student Development Centre writing clinic.

Commentaries must also:
- Be typed in 12-point font and written in single-spaced paragraph form;
- Be no more than two pages but reasonably close to two pages
- Have page numbering on each page, starting with the first page: ‘1’.
- Have the following information, in exactly this form, at the top of the left hand side of the first page.
  HS 4051G Commentary
  February 12, 2013
  Last name, First name, Student Number #111111111
  Commentary Title
- Include a separate numbered 3rd page with bibliographical entries for the references cited in the commentary. Use Chicago Manual style for the bibliographical page: any style there will do, just be consistent.

You will notice that no exact bibliographical references are provided for our readings in the Course Schedule where readings are listed. This is a mini-assignment of its own. You will need the article and chapter or book titles you are working with, google the authors or journals involved, and determine the exact references to include in your commentary and essay bibliographies. Several of our 3rd hour class discussions will be assigned as library time for you to do this on your own. Don’t leave it till the very end!

Commentaries that do not satisfy these formatting requirements will be penalized 1 full mark per error or omission to a maximum of 3 marks or may simply be returned as unacceptable and assigned a late penalty of 2 marks per day late. Do not include a third bibliographical page with your commentary. Note that your commentary must be stapled:
no paper clips or tape. Spelling errors, major grammatical errors, and multiple typos, will be penalized 1 mark each to a maximum of 3 marks. Lesser penalties may be applied as warning.

Please proof-read your commentary carefully. Treat it like a job or scholarship application letter. This is a professional development exercise, not discipline for the sake of discipline. You may use the personal “I” when you first start writing your commentaries, but the goal is ultimately to refrain from using it, and in your essay the use of “I” is forbidden.

COMMENTARY TOPICS AND DUE DATES
Commentary 1 due to Turn it in and in class Mon Jan 11
Commentary 2 due to Turn it in and in class Mon Feb 22

As you are writing your commentaries, always ask yourself what a reader who had not read the texts you are writing about would be able to recover from those texts by reading your commentary, as well as what they would learn about your opinions on the text and reasons for those opinions. You are expected to do your best to read all weekly materials and, when appropriate, incorporate and reflect an awareness of all those materials in your commentary. In some cases, it will simply not do to read simply one article or chapter from assigned readings. Always endeavor to anticipate answers and objections to your own personal contributions in your commentaries. Marks on commentaries may vary, since course readings vary widely in style and content. This in turn may pose very different challenges for interpretation and analysis.

COMMENTARY HARD-COPY AND ONLINE SUBMISSION

All commentaries must be handed in:

1. In hard-copy in class, before class begins, on their respective due date; and,
2. In electronic form to Turn-it-in, before class begins, on their respective due date.

LATE COMMENTARIES

Late commentaries must be written on the weekly topics for which accommodation is provided, when accommodation is granted, and proof of accommodation for that exact day must be provided by your academic counselor. Otherwise, late commentaries will not be accepted and will receive a mark of ‘0’. Late commentaries will be penalized 2 marks per day unless there is a legitimate excuse. See your academic counselor regarding accommodation for late commentaries when you believe you have a legitimate excuse.

MID-TERM

The mid-term will be 2 hours long and consist of 3 essay-style questions worth 10 marks each and several short-answer questions worth a total of 5 marks. There will usually be a choice of 3 out of 4 possible essay questions. Short answer questions may include explanations or definitions of key concepts.

ESSAY TOPICS

You may choose any of the sets of weekly readings assigned after the mid-term to serve as the core texts of your essay. Finding a topic on which to focus your essay is not always easy, so start early. You may refer back to topics and readings in the first part of the course in the essay. But the bulk of the final essay should refer to readings assigned after the mid-term. Thus, the mid-term is meant to test and assess your familiarity and knowledge with one group of readings using one assessment method (essay-style exam), while the essay is meant to familiarize you with a second group of readings using another assessment method (formal scholarly essay). Commentaries are meant to serve as practice for the essay and help prepare for the mid-term, and constitute a separate method of assessment (brief opinion piece). You may choose to write your essay on a topic for which you have written a commentary, but you cannot duplicate what you wrote. Turn-it-in will detect this.

ESSAY INSTRUCTIONS AND FORMAT
Essays should be 6-8 pages double-spaced and include at least 10 direct citations to course readings. Please use the Chicago Manual of Style Author-Date format for in-text citations and bibliographical references at the end of your essay. Include the bibliography on a separate page. Ask a librarian if you need information on learning about this citation format. (Do not leave this to the last minute.) This is part of the skills you need to acquire in this course – through your own effort.

The first page of your essay (page ‘0’ which should have no number on it) should include the following information:

- Essay Title
- Course Number
- Due date
- Last name, First name
- Student Number #111111111

All subsequent pages should be numbered except for the title page which has no page number and counts as page ‘0’. Your essay should have a bibliography on the final page.

Single marks will be deducted for all spelling errors, bad grammar, and formatting errors, up to a maximum of 10 marks. (Essays are marked out of ‘100’.)

ESSAY SUBMISSION
Essays must be;
Submitted in hard-copy in class on April 4 at 2:30; and Submitted electronically to turn-it-in by that same day and time.

Late essays will be penalized ½ letter grade per day late. That is, B+ to a B for one day late, B to B- for a second day late, etc. You can leave late essays under my door at HSB 214.

ESSAY MARKING SCHEME
Your essays will be marked according to the following standardized table, taken from the 2014-2015 Western University Academic Calendar:

University-wide grade descriptors:
One could scarcely expect better from a student at this level.

Superior work which is clearly above average.

Good work, meeting all requirements, and eminently satisfactory.

Competent work, meeting requirements.

Fair work, minimally acceptable.

Fail.

In your essay, you are expected to interpret and evaluate – for example, agree or disagree, and explain why – the scholarly merits of your chosen essay topic and article(s). Roughly 70% of your total essay mark will be devoted to the more descriptive interpretive aspects of your essay, while the remaining 30% will be devoted to your own personal evaluation of the essay article. Do not go beyond course readings and topics in writing your essay. Make sure to include detailed examples taken from course lectures and readings to illustrate your arguments.

You will be marked on how well you display ‘critical thinking’ skills and mastery of your chosen essay article(s). While originality is welcome, essays are mostly expected to reflect knowledge acquired through course readings, as well as class knowledge acquired through course lectures and discussions. An important aim of the course is to foster critical thinking interpretive and evaluative skills.

ACCESSING DSM 5 ONLINE
The Diagnostic Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, Fifth Edition (usually referred to as ‘DSM 5’) which is published by the American Psychiatric Association (APA), is an indispensable reference source for this course. You can reference citations from this text as: (APA 2013, 10). Then include the full reference in your bibliography as follows:

You can access DSM 5 online through the UWO library site and interface by typing ‘DSM 5’ in the online catalogue and selecting the first entry, namely, ‘DSM 5’. Then all you have to do is select “Explore the new edition”.

You may also find DSM 5 online at http://dsm.psychiatryonline.org/doi/book/10.1176/appi.books.9780890425596

CLASS EMAIL POLICY
• Emails that do not mention (i) the course subject designation number and (ii), the student’s full name and student number, will be deleted.

• Only emails with a ‘uwo.ca’ address will be answered.
• Only emails that deal with administrative matters will be read.

• Questions regarding course content must be raised in class or during office hours.

• It may take up to 3 days to answer your email.

FILMS
Films will be shown during regular lecture hours and all students are expected to attend. Due to logistical and practical realities surrounding the availability of films, these can only be shown once. The films are designed to enrich your experience of the materials covered in the course. But like guest lectures or other special events, they are a one-time thing. If you miss a film, do your best to discuss the film with friends. Please note that films are not available for lending under any conditions. Some films may be available through the UWO library. Please check your course outline for film titles.

YOUR MENTAL HEALTH AND WELL-BEING
This course deals with very serious and controversial issues in the area of mental health which may be disturbing for some students. Please speak to myself, or your academic counsellor, if you have any concerns about your own mental health and well-being in relation to course content. Western University has excellent Mental Health and Well-Being services available for students in need of additional guidance and support in this area. See Western’s Health and Wellness information webpage at http://www.health.uwo.ca/mental_health/index.html if you desire more information on this topic. Immediate help in the event of a crisis can be had by phoning 519.661.3030 (during class hours) or 519.433.2023 after class hours and on weekends.

English Proficiency for the Assignment of Grades

Accommodation for Medical Illness or Non-Medical Absences
http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/handbook/appeals/accommodation_medical.pdf
The University recognizes that a student’s ability to meet his/her academic responsibilities may, on occasion, be impaired by medical illness. Illness may be acute (short term), or it may be chronic (long term), or chronic with acute episodes. The University further recognizes that medical situations are deeply personal and respects the need for privacy and confidentiality in these matters. However, in order to ensure fairness and consistency for all students, academic accommodation for work representing 10% or more of the student’s overall grade in the course shall be granted only in those cases where there is documentation indicating that the student was seriously affected by illness and could not reasonably be expected to meet his/her academic responsibilities.

A UWO Student Medical Certificate (SMC) is required where a student is seeking academic accommodation. This documentation should be obtained at the time of the initial consultation with the physician or walk-in clinic. An SMC can be downloaded under the Medical Documentation heading of the following website:
Documentation is required for non-medical absences where the course work missed is more than 10% of the overall grade. Students may contact their Faculty Academic Counselling Office for what documentation is needed.
Whenever possible, students who require academic accommodation should provide notification and documentation in advance of due dates, examinations, etc. Students must follow up with their professors and their Academic Counselling office in a timely manner. Documentation for any request for accommodation shall be submitted, as soon as possible, to the appropriate Academic Counselling Office of the student’s Faculty of registration. For BHSc students, you may go to the School of Health Studies Office in HSB room 222.

Scholastic Offences
Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, at the following website:

Additionally,
1. All required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for the detection of plagiarism. All papers submitted for such checking will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system. Use of the service is subject to the licensing agreement, currently between The University of Western Ontario and Turnitin.com (http://www.turnitin.com).
2. Computer-marked multiple-choice tests and/or exams may be subject to submission for similarity review by software that will check for unusual coincidences in answer patterns that may indicate cheating.
