

The University of Western Ontario
Department of Film Studies

Internship in Film Studies

General description:

This course was instituted to provide students with the opportunity to put theory into practice:

to obtain University credit for volunteer employment in a film or media related field. Third or fourth-year students enrolled in a honors, major or specialization in Film Studies with a modular average of 75% are eligible for the course credit.

Interested students will find an instructor in the department willing to supervise their internship. It is the student's responsibility to find an appropriate internship and complete the internship contract.

The Internship supervisor will work with interested and qualified students to find a placement, and together with the workplace supervisor, to define a work project that benefits the workplace while developing the skills of the student.

The proposal is judged according to the position's relevancy to Film Studies and the educational benefit it might provide.

Each internship is held for a period of one academic term (about 12 weeks: Sept. to Dec., Jan. to April, May to August) and students are limited to two internships during the course of their studies at Western. The student is expected to work an average of 5 to 10 hours a week. The internship must be an unpaid position.

The assigning of a grade will be done by the Supervisor and is based on the student's monthly reports, an interview with the student and the evaluation provided by the employer.

Student responsibilities:

Once the student's position has been judged acceptable for credit, the student will provide the employer with the evaluation form which the employer will fill out at the conclusion of the student's posting. The student will also need to keep a journal which records daily activities related to the position which will serve as the basis for the reports the student will submit at the end of each month to the Internship Supervisor. These reports should be around 2 to 3 pages in length. At the end of the posting, the student will provide a more substantial report of about 5 to 8 pages, describing the work experience in terms of its positive and negative aspects, and some of the lessons learned through the work experience.
