Course content and objectives

What is it that makes “all things Italian” so widely appealing and the boot-shaped peninsula one of the most popular tourist destinations in the world? This question is the point of departure for Italian 2215G, which will take you on a journey of discovery through the extraordinary cultural richness of Italy’s past and present. We will explore the so-called “Italian genius” in its broad range of expressions: in the masterworks of some of Italy’s most influential writers and artists, in classic films, and in music. We will also examine the major role that two iconic expressions of everyday Italian culture, food and fashion, have played in creating typical perceptions and images of Italy. While asking ourselves to what degree are these perceptions typical or stereotypical, we will discuss the most distinctive aspects of contemporary Italian society, including old and new life-styles and political issues (e.g. the economic divide between the North and the South). Special attention will be given to how Italians have historically moved across space. To this end, we will retrace the steps of a famous medieval explorer like Marco Polo, and those of the millions of Italian immigrants who have enriched the cultural life of Canada and numerous other countries. The objectives that will guide us in our journey through Italian culture are: 1) improve your conversation, reading and writing skills in Italian; 2) build your understanding of the wide-ranging contribution that famous and ordinary Italians have made to today’s global culture; 3) develop your research abilities on a variety of topics related to the history and culture of Italy.

Learning outcomes
Upon successful completion of this course you are expected to be able to:

- understand a number of key aspects of Italian and Italian-Canadian culture in a historical perspective
- research autonomously a variety of topics related to the culture and history of the Italian people
- communicate in spoken and written Italian with enhanced proficiency
- engage with a broad array of text types

Course requirements
Oral presentation: 20%

4 writing assignments: 40%

Final exam: 30%

Participation: 10%
Course Guidelines
The oral presentation (20 minutes) must provide evidence of original research on a topic of your choice to be discussed with, and approved by, the instructor. You are expected to hand in an outline a week before the date of your presentation.

The four writing assignments (at least 2 double-spaced pages each) will be composed in response to questions on topics covered in the course.

The final exam will consist of essay questions and text recognition. N.B.: Presentations by peers are an integral part of the content of the course.

Attendance is mandatory and you are expected to complete all required readings before each class. Missing lectures and failing to comply with reading requirements will negatively impact on the final grade.

Required Texts (available at the University Bookstore)
Marco Mezzadri & Linuccio Pederzani, Civiltà Punto It (Perugia: Guerra Edizioni, 2007)

Additional instructional materials will be posted on Owl.

Antirequisite(s):

Pre-or Corequisite(s): Italian 2200 or 2250W/X or permission of the department

Extra Information: 3 hours, 0.5 course.

Note: Taught in Italian.

Please note: You are responsible for ensuring that you have successfully completed all course prerequisites (or have special permission from your Dean to waive the prerequisite) and that you have not taken an antirequisite course. If you are not eligible for the course, you may be removed from it at any time, and it will be deleted from your record. In addition, you will receive no adjustment to your fees. These decisions can not be appealed.

Plagiarism
Plagiarism is a major academic offense (see Scholastic Offense Policy in the Western Academic Calendar). Plagiarism is the inclusion of someone else's verbatim or paraphrased text in one's own written work without immediate reference. Verbatim text must be surrounded by quotation marks or indented if it is longer than four lines. A reference must follow right after borrowed material (usually the author's name and page number). Without immediate reference to borrowed material, a list of sources at the end of a written assignment does not protect a writer against a possible charge of plagiarism. This also applies to work facilitated or written for students by third parties. The University of Western Ontario uses a plagiarism-checking site called Turnitin.com.

Absenteeism:
Students seeking academic accommodation on medical grounds for any missed tests, exams, participation components and/or assignments must apply to the Academic Counselling office of their home Faculty and provide documentation. Academic accommodation cannot be granted by the instructor or department.

Students who are in emotional/mental distress should refer to Mental Health@Western http://www.uwo.ca/uwocom/mentalhealth/ for a complete list of options about how to obtain help.

University policy regarding missed classes and admission to exams: Any student who, in the opinion of the instructor, is absent too frequently from class or laboratory periods in any course, will be reported to the Dean of the Faculty offering the course (after due warning has been given). On the recommendation of the department concerned, and with the permission of the Dean of that Faculty, the student will be debarred from taking the regular examination in the course. The Dean of the Faculty offering the course will communicate that decision to the Dean of the Faculty of Registration.
