Course Content
A man loses his shadow and goes on a wild adventure to get it back while another character wakes up one morning to find himself transformed into a giant bug. Why do such stories sound strangely familiar and yet make us shiver? This course will show the German way of delving into the uncanny, the weird, the titillating and the grotesquely funny as we explore the mysterious worlds of stories by German authors ranging from Romanticism to the late 20th century. Taught in German.

Learning Outcomes
It is expected that, upon the successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

• demonstrate an understanding of the mechanisms that create the uncanny effect in fiction
• understand the cultural, political and social context of the works covered in the class
• connect the themes and motifs covered in the course to the wider history of ideas and human psychology
• communicate their own understanding of relevant texts through oral presentations, writing assignments and tests
