Studies in compositional techniques of the late 20th and early 21st century.

Students from all disciplines are invited to enroll in this class. The course has an emphasis on musical analysis, but will branch off into discussions surrounding historical and cultural issues, performance practice, etc. As such, students from all disciplines are welcome. The discussion methodology and choice of repertoire is, to a certain degree, dependent on the constituency of the class. As such, the bibliography listed at the end of this document is subject to change.

In past years, this course has included works by:

Arvo Pärt, György Ligeti, Sofia Gubaidulina, Galina Ustvolskaya, Steve Reich, Alfred Schnittke, Chris Paul Harman, Magnus Lindberg, Ann Southam, Krystof Penderecki, György Kurtág, Gérard Grisey, Bernd Alois Zimmermann, Karin Rehnqvist, Valentin Silvestrov, James MacMillan, Helmut Lachenmann, Radiohead, Leo Brouwer, Alberto Ginastera, Julia Wolfe, Peter Maxwell Davies, Nicole Lizée, Linda C. Smith, David Lang and others.

The class will meet every week for 3 hours.

Evaluation

Evaluation for the course will be based on three components:

- 1) Preparation and in-class discussion. Students will be required to familiarize themselves with selected repertoire on an ongoing basis (25% of final grade).
- 2) Presentation. Each student will be required to give an in-class fifty-minute presentation on a topic of her/his choice (25% of final grade).
- 3) Final essay. Each student will be required to write a substantial paper on a topic of her/his choice (50% of final grade).

There is no textbook for this course. Reading and repertoire study will be assigned on an ongoing basis.

Learning Outcomes:

After completing the course, students will have:

- an increased knowledge of significant 20th and 21st century composers and compositions.
- additional experience in presenting ideas in a lecture format (see Evaluation).
- additional experience writing a major essay (see Evaluation).

Statement on academic prerequisite

“Unless you have either the requisites for this course or written special permission from your Dean to enroll in it, you may be removed from this course and it will be deleted from your record. This decision may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course for failing to have the necessary prerequisites.”

Statement on accommodation for medical illness

The Graduate Program in Music recognizes that a student’s ability to meet his/her academic responsibilities may, on occasion, be impaired by physical or mental illness. Illness may be acute (short term), or it may be chronic (long term), or chronic with acute episodes. The Graduate Program in Music further recognizes that physical or mental illness situations are deeply personal, and respects the need for privacy and confidentiality in these matters. In order to ensure fairness and consistency for all students, academic accommodation for work representing 10% or more of the student’s overall grade in the course shall be granted only in those cases where there is documentation indicating that the student was seriously affected by illness and could not reasonably be expected to meet his/her academic responsibilities.

Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, as found here:

Western provides several on-campus health-related services to help students achieve optimum health and engage in healthy living while pursuing a graduate degree.
