

January 2020 Newsletter

School for Advanced Studies in the Arts and Humanities

SASAH Speakers' Series: Evidence for the Future

Naomi Oreskes, "Why Trust Science?"

Robert and Patricia Duncanson Lecture, November 14, 2019

Image credit: Kayana Szymczak

WHY
TRUST
SCIENCE
?
NAOMI
ORESQUES

Western Performs!

SASAH teamed up with the Don Wright Faculty of Music and Weldon Library on November 27, 2019 for the second performance in the 2019/2020 concert series. Thank you to Sydney Turner and Sophia Belyk for your informative presentations!

Upcoming Events This Term:

January 30: Jamelie Hassan, "Walking backwards into the future," Conron Hall (UC 3110), 7-8:30pm, - SASAH Speakers' Series

February 25: Peter Meineck, "The Future of Ancient Greece: Activating The Classics For Tomorrow," Conron Hall (UC 3110), 5:00-6:30pm -

March 9: Timothy Caulfield, "Saving Science in the Age of Pop Culture Spin," Conron Hall (UC 3110), 5:00-6:30pm - SASAH Speakers' Series

March 11: Western Performs!
Weldon Library Atrium, 12:30-1:30pm

March 26: Public Discussion, "Homer's Iliad and the Dynamics of Anger,"
Centre at the Forks, Museum London, 7-9:00pm

March 27: 4th Year Experiential Learning Presentations
AHB 1B02, 3:15-6:00pm

SASAH Student Projects

Check out the new issue of Iconoclast, entitled "Uprooted", which explores how we can step outside into the natural world and strengthen our relationship with nature.

Need a Change of Scenery?

Visit SASAH's Flex Desk at Innovation Works (201 King St.). Ask for more details today!

Do you have any questions or want to get more involved?

Contact SASAH's Outreach Coordinator, Michelle Sugar (msugar@uwo.ca).