THE AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY IS COMING TO WESTERN UNIVERSITY OF LONDON, ONTARIO!

JANUARY 26, 2018

North Campus Building, Room NCB113
1151 Richmond St, London, ON N6A 3K7,
Canada

Join the ACS Editors and local professionals for professional development talks brought to you by ACS on Campus, the Canadian Society for Chemistry, and Western University of London, Ontario. In the morning, you'll hear from the ACS Editors on how to get your research published and master the scholarly publishing process. In the afternoon, you'll get essential tips for your job search and here from local professionals during the career panel, "What Can I Do with a PhD?"

The program is FREE and open to all students and researchers studying the sciences — not just chemistry! Pick and choose the sessions you want to attend. A lunch will be provided to all registered attendees. Registration is highly recommended. Walk-Ins are welcome.
