A study of Euripides’ Ion. Although not one of Euripides’ best-known plays, the Ion is nonetheless an attractive and inventive work, focusing on the story of a temple slave named Ion who is revealed to be the son of Apollo and Creusa, an Athenian princess. In addition to the tragic suffering of Creusa and her son, this play has serious things to say about Apollo and his oracle, as well as the Athenian ideology of autochthony and empire. The play will be read closely with a view to style, dramaturgy, and its place in the Greek poetic tradition.

Important Policies for all Western Courses

Plagiarism and Academic Dishonesty
Students must write their essays and assignments in their own words. Whenever students take an idea, or a passage of text from another author, they must acknowledge their debt both by using quotation marks where appropriate and by proper referencing such as footnotes or citations. Plagiarism is a major academic offence (see Scholastic Offence Policy in the Western Academic Calendar).

Policy on Accommodation
If academic accommodation should become necessary at any point, students should contact their course instructor(s) and/or supervisor, as appropriate. Students should also contact the Graduate Chair in most cases, and especially if accommodation is needed for:
- more than one course
- more than one week
- any tests, exams, and/or assignments worth 10% or more of a final grade
- any program milestone (comprehensive exams, thesis, etc.)
In these cases, the Graduate Chair may request that a student work with Student Accessibility Services (http://www.sdc.uwo.ca/ssd/) to arrange a plan for accommodation (see SGPS Regulation 14: http://www.grad.uwo.ca/current_students/regulations/14.html).

Staying healthy – physically and mentally – is an essential part of achieving your academic goals. There are many resources on campus available to help you maintain your health and wellness (start here: http://wec.uwo.ca/ and https://www.uwo.ca/health/). Please contact the Graduate Chair if you have any concerns about health or wellness interfering with your studies.
