STUDENTS MUST PASS TERM AND EXAM TO EARN THE CREDIT

How to Proceed

READING LIST: For each unit in this course, you should begin by reading the assigned text(s).

LECTURES: When you have finished the book (or the stories/poems), click on the learning module for that unit (these can be found on the left-hand side of the course page). Within the learning module, you'll find a document containing notes on the assigned readings. These notes are designed to play the role that a lecture would play in an on-campus course.

NO QUIZZES FOR US: At the end of the course notes there are several self-testing questions. These questions are designed to help you assess your grasp of the lecture material. In some cases, the answer can be found explicitly in the course notes; in other cases, the questions prompt you to think more deeply about the ideas presented in the notes. I ask students to do the questions in the full-year course. Us? We're just too busy ! DO NOT BOTHER WITH THESE :)

DISCUSSION FORUMS: You will also find several discussion questions listed below the self-testing questions. Have a think about these ideas. They are very similar to the formal questions on the FORUMS tab on the left hand tool bar. The Participation mark of 10% will be based primarily on your activity in the forums, reflecting both the quality and the quantity of your responses.

WANT MORE? Additional optional readings can be found at the end of each unit. For several units, I have provided a link to a relevant article or website that provides additional information about the author and/or text. While these readings are not required, you may find them helpful, especially for books on which you are writing an essay. (If you use information from these sites, be sure to cite the source using MLA format!)

Citing Sources

Students must write their essays and assignments in their own words. Whenever students take an idea or a passage from another author, they must acknowledge their debt both by using quotation marks where appropriate and by proper referencing such as footnotes or citations. Plagiarism is a major offense (see Scholastic Offence Policy in the Western Academic Calendar). Any student who commits this or any other act of academic dishonesty will receive a grade of zero and a note will be placed on his or her academic record.

Here are some steps to follow to avoid plagiarism

- 1) Do as much work as possible before beginning your written assignments – read the novel(s), think of a thesis statement, sketch out your argument. Write down your own ideas before reading any criticism.
- 2) Develop a note-taking style that clearly indicates what ideas are your own and what ideas are taken from another source. You can use different coloured pens, cue cards, or any other method that helps you distinguish your own ideas from those of other critics.
- 3) Feel free to disagree with any critic you may be reading – don't simply regurgitate somebody else's argument.
- 4) When you are incorporating someone else's ideas into your essay, acknowledge them within the essay itself using
 - a. quotations marks (whenever you have even part of a sentence that's the same as the original)

- b. introductory tag phrases – i.e. According to John Smith...
As Smith points out...
Smith observes that...
 - c. a reference in parentheses that indicates the source of the idea (often just the page number, if you've already used a tag phrase)
- 5) Cite the source in full in your Works Cited list (see guidelines below). REMEMBER TO CITE THE PRIMARY TEXTS TOO!

MLA Guidelines

Your essays should follow the MLA format:

- 1) In the top left-hand corner of the first page, put your name, the name of your professor, the name of the course, and the date.
- 2) Number your pages in the top right-hand corner.
- 3) Double space.
- 4) If you use a snappy, attention-grabbing title, follow it up with an informative sub-title that indicates your topic and the works you will be discussing (i.e. Touching Pitch: Moral Ambiguity in R. L. Stevenson's Treasure Island).
- 5) Titles of books should be underlined or italicized. Titles of short poems, articles, and short stories should be put in quotation marks.
- 6) Introduce quotations in your own words, identifying the speaker and context: i.e. Bettelheim argues that "The fairy tale ... confronts the child squarely with the basic human predicaments" (311). Use ellipses to indicate where you have omitted material.
- 7) If the quotation is longer than four lines, do not use quotation marks; instead, indent the passage ten spaces from the left and continue to double space.
- 8) For short quotations, indicate the page number(s) in parentheses after the quotation marks and before the end punctuation. For long, indented quotations, place the parentheses after the end punctuation. Do not use abbreviations such as p. or pp. or include the author's name if the identity of the author is clear from the context.
- 9) List all the works you have referred to in a Works Cited list at the end of your paper. Use the following format in your Works Cited list:
Author's last name, Author's first name. "Title of article or short story." Title of Book.
City of publication: Publisher, date of publication.

Learning Objectives

By the end of the course, the successful student will be able to

- place individual texts in their context within the historical development of children's literature
- recognize and understand the features of genres such as the fairy tale, the cautionary tale, nonsense, adventure, domestic fiction, and fantasy
- display a knowledge of several classic children's novels, as well as more recent contributions to the genre
- analyze texts employing the skills of literary analysis, considering features such as narrative technique, symbolism, rhyme and rhythm, layout and illustrations, etc.
- understand the political, religious, moral, and philosophical underpinnings of the books on the course
- communicate ideas effectively in writing (through discussion posts and persuasive essays)
- develop a specific, focused argument and support it with textual evidence

University Policy on Academic Accommodation

Students seeking academic accommodation on medical grounds for any missed tests, exams, participation components and/or assignments worth (either alone or in combination) 10% or more of their final grade must apply to the Academic Counselling office of their home Faculty and provide documentation. Academic accommodation cannot be granted by the instructor or department.

Documentation shall be submitted, as soon as possible, to the Office of the Dean of the student's Faculty of registration, together with a request for relief specifying the nature of the accommodation being requested. The Student Medical Certificate (SMC) can be found at http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/medicalform.pdf

The full policy is set out here:

Accommodation for Medical Illness

This policy remains in place for all assignments, including those worth less than 10% of a student's final grade.

Please note: instructors are not permitted to review medical documentation; all requests for academic accommodation that include doctor's notes, etc., regardless of the total worth of the assignment to a student's final grade, must be submitted by the student directly to the appropriate Faculty Dean's office and not to the instructor. It will be the Dean's office that will determine if accommodation is warranted.

Students who are in emotional/mental distress should refer to MentalHealth@Western:

<http://www.uwo.ca/uwocom/mentalhealth/> for a complete list of options about how to obtain help.
