4470F – Seminar in American Literature: Reading “Eaarth”

Joshua Schuster
jschust@uwo.ca
Office: UC 2422
Office hours: Thurs 10:30-1:30, or by appointment

Description:
Recent environmentalists argue we live on a new planet, hence the new spelling “Eaarth.” We will read fiction, poetry, essays, and films from recent decades that use experimental techniques to understand our new Eaarth and what kind of planet it might become in the near future.

Course Objectives
Successful students who complete the course will be able to:

• Analyze cultural works as reflective of larger environmental ideas
• Discuss and theorize cultural works using recent methods of literary and cultural scholarship
• Understand how elements of cultural form and content can become symbolic for aesthetic, social, environmental and experiences
• Write an analytical essay with a research component that proposes a compelling thesis

Note: Computers are not allowed in this course.

Assignments: Late essays are not accepted. We will use OWL. Essays will be returned by OWL – be sure to read the comments.

Participation: Your participation is central to this class and is a key component of your growth as a student. Participation includes: being involved in class discussion, participating in group work, and putting real energy into all assignments and readings. Read the texts before the day they are discussed.

Presentations: Presentations are 15 minutes long (I will keep time). The format is to focus on three main terms or issues in a given text. You will need to cite the text. You do not have to sum up the text or provide a lot of background – you can just jump into your three main ideas. You are welcome to make connections to previous texts or class discussion. You are also welcome to use any visual aids or handouts. You do not need to hand in any written work.

Attendance: Attendance is mandatory and obviously counts for your grade in participation. It is imperative to arrive to each class on time. No unexcused absences are permitted (I am not crazy and I do know that problems arise during the semester – but please supply a legitimate written excuse – see Western policy on this). If you miss a certain number of courses, I will warn you, but already you risk getting a zero in participation and/or dropped from the course.

Academic Accommodation: Students seeking academic accommodation on medical grounds for any missed tests, exams, participation components and/or assignments worth (either alone or in combination) 10% or more of their final grade must apply to the Academic Counselling office of their home Faculty and provide documentation. Academic accommodation cannot be granted by the instructor or department.

Documentation shall be submitted, as soon as possible, to the Office of the Dean of the student’s Faculty of registration, together with a request for relief specifying the nature of the accommodation being requested. The Student Medical Certificate (SMC) can be found at: http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/medicalform.pdf

Students who are in emotional/mental distress should refer to MentalHealth@Western: http://www.uwo.ca/uwocom/mentalhealth/ for a complete list of options about how to obtain help.

Plagiarism: Plagiarism constitutes an automatic failure of this course and goes on a student’s permanent record of conduct. If you have any questions about what constitutes plagiarism, please contact me.

The following is a statement on plagiarism that has been mandated by the UWO Senate: “Students must write their essays and assignments in their own words. Whenever students take an idea, or a passage of text from another author, they must acknowledge their debt both by using quotation marks where appropriate and by proper referencing such as footnotes or citations. Plagiarism is a major academic offense (see Scholastic Offense Policy in the Western Academic Calendar). Plagiarism checking: The University of Western Ontario uses software for plagiarism checking. Students may be required to submit their work in electronic form for plagiarism checking.”

MLA Documentation: Undergraduate research papers written in Arts and Humanities follow

Western University Land Acknowledgment: Western University is situated on the traditional territories of the Anishinaabeg, Haudenosaunee, Lunaapeewak and Attawandaron peoples, who have longstanding relationships to the land and region of southwestern Ontario and the City of London. The local First Nation communities of this area include Chippewas of the Thames First Nation, Oneida Nation of the Thames, and Munsee Delaware Nation. In the region, there are eleven First Nation communities and a growing Indigenous urban population. Western values the significant historical and contemporary contributions of local and regional First Nations and all of the Original peoples of Turtle Island (North America).

Creative Assignment (due Oct. 31 – at least 5 pages):
1. Create an Eaarth – either an already possible alternative to Earth or a “if this goes on...” scenario on Earth. Give your planet a new name.
2. What do people do, see, think, eat, read or look at on your Eaarth?
3. What philosophies, poetics, visual arts, and literary forms are central for your comprehension of your Eaarth? What does Eaarth look like? What poetics are appropriate to it?
4. Is your Eaarth utopian/dystopian/ecotopian, or perhaps all of these?
5. Interview a person that is emblematic of your Eaarth.
6. Describe an object or place that is emblematic of your Eaarth.

Blog Post (due Nov. 7): Visit someone else’s Eaarth. Describe your experience. Reflect on and theorize your visit.
