

Indigenous Health Equity

Tuesday, September 23, 2025; 12:00-1:00pm via Zoom

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER

The Anti-Racism, Anti-Oppression and Decolonization Committee (DARAO) of the Arthur Labatt Family School of Nursing is proudly hosting a speaker series exploring Indigenous perspectives on health by an esteemed panel of Indigenous scholars.

Sara Mai Chitty

Sara Mai Chitty (she/her) is mixed Michi Sagig Anishinaabekwe and white British settler. A member of Alderville First Nation, and lecturer at Kings University College, with a background in media and curriculum development.

Benny Skinner

Benny Skinner (they/them) is a two-spirit/non-binary person from Ka'qaqujue'katik/Qalipue'katik, Ktaqmkuk and Pampang, Luzon. They are Mi'kmaw (Lewis family, Otter Clan) and Kapampangan (Magtoto family). Benny's areas of expertise include Indigenous methods and pedagogy, decolonization, gender, and sexuality. Currently, they are an Indigenous Research Advisor at the University of Waterloo.

Gabrielle Heil

Gabrielle Heil is of mixed Oneida and European ancestry, and the daughter of a 60s Scoop Survivor. She is a Nurse Practitioner working in primary care at a Community Health Center located on Bkejwanong Unceded Territory. Gabrielle is passionate about Indigenous Health, health equity, and cultural safety. She co-developed and teaches the mandatory Indigenous Health course in the Arthur Labatt Family School of Nursing.

Western
Arthur Labatt Family
School of Nursing

Anti-Racism, Anti-Oppression and Decolonization Committee (DARAO)
Speaker Series