

Clinical Academic Faculty Position
Department of Obstetrics & Gynaecology - Division of Maternal Fetal Medicine
Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry, Western University

The Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, London Health Sciences Centre and Western University, London Ontario, Canada, is seeking one (1) full time clinical academic position in Maternal-Fetal Medicine (MFM). The successful candidate will hold a full-time Limited Term Clinical Academic appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor or Associate Professor, or a Continuing Clinical Academic appointment at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor, depending upon experience and qualifications at the time of appointment. The candidate must hold an MD and be eligible for licensing in the Province of Ontario. Specialist certification in Obstetrics and Gynaecology through the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada or equivalent is required, and a formal fellowship in Maternal-Fetal Medicine. The successful candidate will have a commitment to and demonstrated aptitude for teaching and will be expected to teach at the undergraduate and graduate levels and to supervise graduate trainees. The successful candidate will also have a demonstrated interest in and a record of research and publication in obstetrical ultrasound.

Responsibilities will include:

- Active participation in team-based health care;
- Active involvement in teaching, both at the undergraduate and post graduate levels; and
- At least 30-40% time commitment to education, research and/or administrative activities in the Department, Hospital and/or the University.

Western University delivers an academic experience second to none. Western challenges the best and brightest faculty, staff and students to commit to the highest global standards. Our research excellence expands knowledge and drives discovery with real-world application. Western attracts individuals with a broad worldview, seeking to study, influence and lead in the international community. Since 1878, The Western Experience has combined academic excellence with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social and cultural growth in order to better serve our communities. Western University is a research-intensive institution with a wide range of academic and professional programs (see <http://www.uwo.ca/> to learn more). Western's Recruitment and Retention Office is available to assist in the transition of successful applicants and their families.

London Health Sciences Centre (LHSC), one of Canada's largest acute-care teaching hospitals, is dedicated to excellence in patient care, teaching and research. For more than 138 years, LHSC has provided patient care for the people of London, the region, and beyond. Many national and international medical breakthroughs have been pioneered at LHSC, to the benefit of patients at home and around the world. The Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology has 35 full-time academic physicians, and 3 basic scientists and opportunities exist for clinical and basic science research.

The MFM Division provides comprehensive care to women with fetal and maternal complications of pregnancy. The members provide consultation support to women at LHSC (6,000 births/year) and to the Southwest region of Ontario (1.2 million births). The MFM division provides preconception counselling, antenatal and intrapartum care for women with medical and obstetrical complications of pregnancy. Prenatal diagnosis, obstetrical ultrasound, and assessment and management of fetal anomalies are managed in collaboration with genetics, radiology, neonatology and paediatric subspecialties. Special clinical and research interests within the group are management of obesity in pregnancy, abnormal placentation, placental drug transfer/toxicology, MRI in pregnancy, simulation and quality improvement.

The successful candidate will have a keen interest in academic medicine and the ability to collaborate effectively with all other members of the health care team and office staff, and a commitment to active participation in team-based health care and teaching, both at the undergraduate and postgraduate levels. The Division is interested in a candidate with a clinical and research focus in obstetrical ultrasound to lead the Maternal Fetal Medicine Ultrasound Unit.

Compensation for this position will be commensurate with qualifications and experience and will be composed of fee for service and academic salary. The anticipated start date for this position is September 1, 2024, although an alternate start date may be negotiated.
