

Applications are invited for two exceptional candidates in the area of Engineering Leadership and Innovation in the John M. Thompson Centre for Engineering Leadership and Innovation, Faculty of Engineering, effective July 1, 2021 or as soon as possible thereafter. Successful applicants will receive a three (3) – year limited term appointment at the rank of Lecturer or Assistant Professor. The rank and salary will be commensurate with the successful applicant's qualifications and experience.

We seek energetic and dynamic candidates who will be able to contribute to the Faculty's teaching activities in engineering leadership and innovation. The successful candidate will primarily teach in professional graduate program courses within Western Engineering. We are particularly interested in expertise in the areas of Design Thinking/Design Driven Innovation, Engineering Leadership and Engineering Communications. While a successful candidate will have expertise and interest in one area primarily, flexibility to teach across areas is viewed as highly desirable.

Experience in curriculum development and online education are highly valued. Case writing experience would also be useful.

Successful candidates will have familiarity with the Engineering profession and an appropriate graduate level education. The candidate should provide evidence of teaching at the university level. The successful candidate will also be expected to participate in the normal administrative, educational and professional activities of the Centre, Faculty and University.
