SCHOOL OF HEALTH STUDIES

is seeking outstanding candidates for a

3-YEAR LIMITED-TERM FACULTY POSITION IN MENTAL HEALTH AND WELLNESS

The School of Health Studies invites applications for a 3-year limited-term faculty position. This position is at the rank of Lecturer or Assistant Professor, in Mental Health and Wellness. Rank and compensation will be commensurate with educational qualifications and experience. The successful candidate will be appointed to the School of Health Studies (http://www.uwo.ca/facultyrelations/pdf/careers/Faculty/Application/FullTime-Faculty-Position-Form.pdf) and will be responsible for providing dynamic mental health education at undergraduate and graduate levels that will complement existing strengths in the School. Principal duties will include the development and teaching of courses that include:

- HS 3002A/B – Health Occupations OR HS 3042A/B – Cross-Sector Health Partnership Models
- HS 3995A/B – Health Sciences in Practice OR HS 2801A/B – Research Methods in Health Sciences
- HS 4208A/B – Understanding Stress OR HS 4044A/B – International Health System Comparisons
- GRDIPAHS9003 – Determinants of Mental Health and Trauma-informed Mental Health OR similar course

A progressive set of undergraduate level courses, one each at the second-, third- and fourth-year, that are developed in consultation with the curriculum committee and builds a foundation of mental health education in the areas of wellness, mental health care delivery, practices and priorities.

The successful candidate will be expected to participate in relevant service to the university in general and the School of Health Studies in particular, including the delivery of mental health and well-being tutorials to School of Health Studies students. Candidates must hold a PhD or Master's degree in a related health field, and have demonstrated excellence in teaching in the area of Mental Health and Wellness and enthusiasm for quality education. Preference may be given to candidates with a PhD in a health-related discipline or psychology. The candidate will also have demonstrated expertise in developing and teaching courses in traditional and flexible learning environments, including online delivery. Professional designation and/or membership in a regulated health profession would be an asset, as would clinical experience in a mental health environment. Evidence of engagement or prior working relationships with relevant community partner organizations will also be considered an asset given the School’s focus on evidence- and practice-based education. The anticipated start date of this appointment is August 1, 2018.

Western University delivers an academic experience second to none. Our research excellence expands knowledge and drives discovery with real-world application. Since 1878, the Western Experience has combined academic excellence with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social and cultural growth to better serve our communities. With a full-time enrolment of 32,000, Western University is a leading research-intensive university with a full-range of academic and professional programs. General information about Western can be found at http://www.uwo.ca. The university campus is in London (www.london.ca), a thriving city with a metropolitan census of 530,000, located midway between Toronto and Detroit.

Interested applicants should send a detailed curriculum vita including teaching dossier, a cover letter, the names of three academic referees and a completed Application for Full-Time Position (available at http://www.uwo.ca/facultyrelations/pdf/careers/Faculty/Application/FullTime-Faculty-Position-Form.pdf) to:

Dr. Dan Belliveau, Director, School of Health Studies, Faculty of Health Sciences, Western University
Arthur & Sonia Labatt Health Sciences Building, Room 222
London, Ontario N6A 5B9
Email: dbellive@uwo.ca

Please quote number HS 185 on all correspondence for this position.

The deadline for receipt of applications is July 20, 2018.

Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups/visible minorities, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

In accordance with Canadian Immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents.

Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Dr. Dan Belliveau, Director, School of Health Studies at dbellive@uwo.ca or 519 661-4119.

Posted on Faculty Relations June 18, 2018.