Department of Clinical Neurological Sciences, Division of Neurology
Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry, Western University
Clinical Academic Position – Neurologist/Stroke Specialist

The Department of Clinical Neurological Sciences at the Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry and the London Health Sciences Centre is seeking a full-time Stroke Neurologist to join our busy stroke service. The candidate will fill a clinical academic role as a Clinician Teacher at Western University. Applicants should be certified, or eligible for certification, in Neurology by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada, or equivalent. Candidates must have an MD, or equivalent, and must be eligible for licensure in the province of Ontario. The successful candidate will hold a limited term clinical academic appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor.

Western University delivers an academic experience second to none. Western challenges the best and the brightest faculty, staff and students to commit to the highest global standards. Our research excellence expands knowledge and drives discovery with real-world application. Western attracts individuals with a broad worldview, seeking to study, influence and lead in the international community. Since 1878, The Western Experience has combined academic excellence with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social and cultural growth in order to better serve our communities.

The Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry at Western University is one of Canada’s preeminent medical and dental schools. Established in 1881, it was one of the founding schools of Western University and is known for being the birthplace of family medicine in Canada. For more than 130 years, the School has demonstrated a commitment to academic excellence and a passion for scientific discovery. Throughout its history, Schulich Medicine & Dentistry has helped educate generations of physicians, dentists, scholars and scientists whose collective work has transformed the practice of medicine and dentistry, here in Canada and around the world. Faculty, students and alumni continue to fulfill their responsibilities as global leaders by sharing their knowledge and expertise for the benefit of all.

The Department of Clinical Neurological Sciences is comprised of 31 Neurologists and 12 Neurosurgeons is the single tertiary referral centre for Southwestern Ontario (SWO). The Department serves an immediate patient population of 1.8 million but its referral base extends beyond SWO to include areas in northern Ontario and a significant portion from the Niagara region – increasing this referral base to 3.5 million. London is the regional stroke center for Southwestern Ontario and has a busy acute stroke and endovascular thrombectomy service.

The successful candidate will have a record of proven ability for teaching and will be expected to teach at the undergraduate and graduate levels and will supervise trainees, including fellows, residents, and medical students in an inpatient and out-patient setting. The successful candidate is expected to be a contributing member of the Stroke Program. Clinical work will include the Urgent TIA Clinic, Stroke Consults, Inpatient Stroke Service and Stroke/General Neurology Call. Preference will be given to candidates who have completed at least one year of fellowship training in cerebrovascular disease and those who have demonstrated experience in academic medicine, scholarship, and collaboration.

Compensation will be based on qualifications and experience and will be composed primarily of the following sources: fee for service, alternative funding plan and academic support.

Interested candidates should submit a letter of intent and accompanying curriculum vitae, along with the names and addresses of three references to be contacted, to:
