

Paediatric Clinical Pharmacologist
Division of Paediatric Clinical Pharmacology, Department of Paediatrics
Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry, Western University

The Division of Paediatric Clinical Pharmacology, Department of Paediatrics, Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry, Western University, is seeking a Paediatric Clinical Pharmacology faculty with a focused interest in adverse drug reactions and suspected serious cutaneous adverse drug reactions.

As part of the Division of Paediatric Clinical Pharmacology, the successful candidate will work collaboratively with other members of the Division, Department and beyond, to study, teach and conduct safe and effective drug therapy for children. Applicants will actively contribute to the undergraduate and postgraduate education, and research programs of the Division and Department. The successful applicant will also serve as a role model for our undergraduate medical students, paediatric residents and Clinical Pharmacology Subspecialty Fellow/Residents.

Western University delivers an exceptional academic experience. Western challenges the best and brightest faculty, staff and students to commit to the highest global standards. Our research excellence expands knowledge and drives discovery with real-world applications. Western attracts individuals with a broad worldview, seeking to study, influence and lead in the international community. Since 1878, the Western Experience has combined academic excellence with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social and cultural growth in order to better serve our communities.

The Divisional members work closely in clinical, teaching and research with members of the Departments of Paediatrics (<http://www.schulich.uwo.ca/paediatrics/>) and Medicine (<http://www.schulich.uwo.ca/medicine/>). Collaborative research is also done with scientists at the Children's Health Research Institute (CHRI) (www.chri.org) and with scientists from the Robarts Research Institute and the Lawson Health Research Institute.

Candidates for this position must have an MD or equivalent degree and must be eligible for licensing in the Province of Ontario. Candidates must also have training in Paediatrics and Clinical Pharmacology. Additional training in dermatology or dermato-pharmacology would be an asset. The successful candidate will hold a Limited Term clinical academic appointment within Schulich at the rank of Assistant Professor as a Clinician Teacher.

Compensation for this position will be primarily composed of an alternative funding plan and academic salary. The anticipated start date for this position is February 1, 2021, although an alternate start date may be negotiated.

Please submit your application, including curriculum vitae, Letter of Interest/Statement of Academic Qualifications, and names and contact information of three references to:
