London, Ontario

Department of Economics*Faculty of Social Science*Faculty Position*Probationary (Tenure Track) – Assistant Professor*Econometrics, Financial Econometrics, Financial Economics, International Finance, Macroeconomics, Microeconomic Theory

The Department of Economics at The University of Western Ontario invites applications for one probationary (tenure track) position at the rank Assistant Professor. This position is affiliated with our Master of Financial Economics program. The research specialization for the appointment can be in Econometrics, Financial Econometrics, Financial Economics, International Finance, Macroeconomics, or Microeconomic Theory. The position requires teaching in Western's Master of Financial Economics program. See <https://economics.uwo.ca/mfe/program-information/course-information.html> for a list of courses. Unless otherwise specified, this appointment is effective July 1, 2026, but an alternate starting date may be arranged. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Qualifications:

For a probationary appointment, the candidate must have completed (or be very close to completion of) a doctoral degree in Economics or Finance. The successful candidate must demonstrate excellence or clear promise of excellence in research, including the ability to publish in the highest quality academic outlets, and in teaching, including the ability to successfully teach undergraduate and graduate courses. Candidates must have excellent oral communication, written communication, and interpersonal skills.

Duties:

A probationary appointment requires course delivery primarily in the Master of Financial Economics Program with additional courses in the Economics undergraduate and graduate programs. The position also requires supervision of graduate students, maintaining an active research program including applying for external grant funds and some administrative duties.

To apply, please follow the instructions on our website:

Review of applications will commence on November 17, 2025, and will continue until the position is filled.

Western, like many postsecondary institutions in Canada, is moving beyond the sole reliance upon Indigenous self-identification in hiring designated Indigenous roles to safeguard against use of incorrect, incomplete, or misleading information regarding claims of Indigenous identity. Candidates who are invited for an interview will be asked to have their claim to Indigenous identity (First Nations, Métis, and Inuit) affirmed through a relational accountability process, led by the Office of Indigenous Initiatives (OII), that is consistent with Indigenous ways of knowing, being, and doing. Please contact the OII directly for details on the affirmation processes: <https://indigenous.uwo.ca/> . The policy can be viewed at: POLICY 1.58 - Affirming Declarations of Indigenous Citizenship or Membership at Western University .
