KIN 9011Y SPORT MANAGEMENT INTERNSHIP

(revised January 2021)

LEARNING OUTCOMES:

The purpose of the internship is to enable sport management graduate students to obtain professional experience to complement their course work. Through this applied studies approach, students will learn first-hand about the sport management profession, and develop their understanding of organizational and managerial theory in practice. Students will also have the opportunity to develop professional skills, critically reflect on their personal growth, and explore career interests in sport management.

Through the internship experience, students will be able to:

- 1. Articulate the management and operations of a sport organization, and specific functions there.
- 2. Critically analyze work functions in relation to theoretical concepts in sport management.
- 3. Integrate applied and theoretical knowledge in the sport management work setting.
- 4. Demonstrate effective communication, interpersonal and other critical skills in the sport management workplace.
- 5. Exercise personal responsibility and accountability in a professional setting.

REQUIREMENTS:

Students must complete a minimum of 480 hours during one term (12-16 weeks) with a selected agency in the sport, recreation or leisure field. Students must have completed at least one term of course work prior to undertaking the internship. Students will secure their own internship placement, with the help of their faculty advisor. An internship agreement, describing the student's role in the organization, will be developed and signed by the student, the agency supervisor, and faculty advisor. Students are responsible for the completion and submission of weekly logs, a mid-term and final internship evaluation, and assignments as outlined below.

The host agency and agency supervisor must agree to provide a challenging learning opportunity for the student, as well as a suitable environment for the student to carry out his/her assigned duties. The host agency is not required to provide financial compensation. The agency supervisor is responsible for overseeing the student's internship experience with the organization and will conduct a mid-term and final evaluation of the student's performance. When possible, the faculty advisor may conduct an on-site visit of the agency during the student's internship.

FINANCIAL AID/REMUNERATION:

The host agency may provide an honorarium to the student during the placement, but is not required to do so. Financial aid may be available to the student through the Western Student Financial Aid Office.

EVALUATION:

1. Weekly Log Reports (15%, due on the same day of the week determined in discussion with academic supervisor)

Students will complete and submit to their faculty advisor weekly log reports (see attached form) reflecting on their work experiences. The purpose of the log reports is to (1) maintain a real-time record of internship activities throughout the placement, and (2) generate and record real-time reflections about notable experiences and observations.

2. Statement of Learning Objectives (10%, due 2 weeks after start of internship, approximately 3 pages)

Students will submit a statement of personal objectives pertaining to technical, interpersonal, and conceptual skills they hope to develop during the internship, and how this will be accomplished (see attached form/guidelines).

(Recommended reference: Chapter 4 in P. Chelladurai (2014). Managing organizations for sport and physical activity. A systems perspective (4th ed.). Milton Park, Oxfordshire: Taylor & Francis)

3. Student Evaluation of the Internship Experience with Critical Reflection (20%, due at end of internship, approximately 10 pages)

Students will complete an evaluation of their internship at the completion of the internship (see attached evaluation form). A reflective piece focusing on the learning objectives should accompany this final evaluation (see attached guidelines).

5. Mid-term and Final Evaluation by Agency Supervisor (20%, due mid-term and end of internship)

The student's agency supervisor is required to complete an evaluation of the student's role in the organization after eight weeks (mid-term) and at the completion of the internship (see attached evaluation forms).

6. Final Internship Report (value 25%, due within one month after completion of internship, approximately 25 pages)

Students will complete a final report that comprises three parts: (1) Background information (student's job description roles and responsibilities in the organization, supervision, communication links); (2) Overview of the organization (mission, vision, values, goals and objectives, organizational chart; description of products and services); and (3) analysis of two different aspects of the organization, management and/or operations in relation to theory covered in different sport management courses (i.e., each aspect must be assessed with material from a different course; aspects should be confirmed with the faculty supervisor). See attached guidelines for details.

7. Internship Presentation (10%, due within two months after completion of the internship) Students will share their internship insights and experience with fellow sport management graduate students and sport management professors at Western (see attached guidelines).

GRADUATE SPORT MANAGEMENT INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

AGENCY GUIDELINES

Program Description

The course-based Sport Management Masters Program in the School of Kinesiology at Western University requires students to complete a full-time management internship with a sport, recreation or leisure organization for credit. We would be pleased to have your agency involved in this internship program. There can be tremendous benefit from the involvement of a motivated, capable graduate student who is committed to working in your organization.

The educational objective of the program is to enable sport management graduate students to obtain professional experience to complement their course work. Students should learn first-hand about the sport management profession, and develop their understanding of organizational and managerial theory in practice. Students should also have the opportunity to develop professional skills and explore career interests in sport management.

Student Requirements

Each student is required to complete a minimum 480 hours over a 12-16 week period. An internship agreement acknowledging the roles and responsibilities of the student, the host agency supervisor, and the faculty advisor must be signed prior to the start of the internship. A focused experience should be identified and confirmed in conjunction with the agency supervisor and faculty advisor.

Agency Requirements

The agency supervisor is expected to identify and confirm a focused experience for the student, outline the duties of the student, and to provide an appropriate work environment for the student to carry out his/her assignments. The agency supervisor will be asked to complete mid-term and final evaluations of the student's performance in the organization. Financial remuneration in the form of an honorarium to the student is at the discretion of the host organization. The agency supervisor must sign the internship agreement outlining the student's activities.

Please feel free to contact us if you have any questions about the Internship Program. We look forward to working with you.

Sincerely,

STUDENT EVALUATION OF INTERNSHIP EXPERIENCE (CRITICAL REFLECTION)

(20% - with Student Evaluation document – due at end of internship, approx. 10 pages)

The content and form of the evaluation/reflection paper may vary depending on each student's internship experience. In general, however, the paper should include the following components:

- 1. A brief overview of your internship placement, your personal goals, and your learning outcomes.
- 2. A description of some aspect of your internship experience that you felt was particularly meaningful for you.
- 3. A reflective analysis of why this aspect of your internship was particularly meaningful for you. This might include an assessment of your knowledge and/or attitudes before starting the placement and how these have changed.
- 4. An overall assessment of what you have learned through this process, and how it relates to your current academic study/course work and future aspirations.

Writing a Reflection Paper

Critical reflection involves reflecting on and making meaning of one's experiences, thoughts, and beliefs. Critical thinking means actively engaging with and questioning information to identify issues, assumptions, concepts, evidence, alternative viewpoints, and frames of reference. Critical reflection brings together reflective practice with critical thinking, encouraging you to deepen your analysis by being critical about your experiences.

How do I get the most from my reflective practice?

The objective of critical reflection is not to simply describe what happened. You need to dig deeper to get the most out of your reflection. Consider the following questions as you prepare to write your paper.

What? Start by describing and examining what happened during your experience including observations about your own and other people's thoughts, feelings, and behaviours. So what? Move beyond a simple description to analysis and interpretation. Explore how the

So what? Move beyond a simple description to analysis and interpretation. Explore how the academic concepts from your courses relate to your experiences.

Now what? Consider how your learning will influence practice and theory. Think about what this means for your own future in the professional or academic realm.

GUIDELINES FOR FINAL REPORT

At the completion of the internship, the student is required to submit a final report that provides an overview and select analysis specific to the organization/agency where he/she worked. The report is worth 25% of the final mark, is due within a month after completing the internship, and should be about 25 pages (12-point font, double-spaced, 1 in margins) and follow the APA 7th ed. style guide for citing and referencing. The report should include the following sections:

- 1. Background Information (student's job description, roles and responsibilities in the organization, supervision, communication links) (5 marks)
- 2. Overview of the Organization (mission, vision, values, goals and objectives, organizational chart, description of products/services) (5 marks)
- 3. Analysis of two different aspects of the organization, its management and/or operations, with recommendations for practice. For each aspect there must be a review of related theory/literature (with appropriate references), an analysis of the phenomenon in the organization, and recommendations for practice. The two aspects must relate to material from two different grad courses (see below for suggestions from each course). (15 marks)

GUIDELINES FOR INTERNSHIP PRESENTATION

At the completion of the internship (within two months), the student is required to share their internship insights and experience with fellow sport management graduate students and sport management professors at Western. The value of the presentation is 10%. The presentation may be in the form of an oral (virtual or in-person) talk (30 min. including questions), an infographic, a vlog, or some other form of communication. Students should confirm the form of their presentation with their faculty supervisor. The presentation should cover the following topics:

- 1. Overview of the organization (as per Final Report part 2);
- 2. Description of responsibilities and discussion of accomplishments (tasks, projects, responsibilities) (as per Final Report part 1);
- 3. Reflection and assessment of personal learning objectives achieved and how, and anticipated learning objectives that were not achieved, and why (as per Critical Reflection).

The presentation will be shared with students and faculty through a scheduled seminar or circulation of the presentation document/file.
