COURSE DESCRIPTION

For decades, the name ‘Disney’ has been associated with popular aspects of Americana, especially those that pertain to spectacular, escapist approaches to culture that idealize traditional values as they apply to human life and relationships. Given the tremendous Disney mass market output that goes well beyond film production, Benjamin Barber’s argument—that “whether Disney knows it or not, it is buying much more than our leisure time. It has a purchase on our values, on how we feel and think, and what we think about”—speaks to the Disney empire’s profound and premeditated influence on our most important cultural narratives.

Through an examination of diverse media sources (animated shorts, lobby cards, press books, advertisements, full-length animated and live action feature films, etc.) and their treatment of topics such as childhood, family, relationships, race, class, sexuality, and gender, this course casts a critical look at Disney as one of America’s most long-standing “dream factories” that shape the fabric of our collective consciousness through its innovative technological industry and strategic use of discourse. Finally, this course also encourages the centrality of critical self-reflection in the various ways that we as audiences are potentially instrumentalized within these transnational ideological networks, not only as their consumers but also as their re-producers.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

By the end of the course, students should be able to:

1. synthesize concepts from a number of theoretical perspectives in order to read and think critically about the potential biases, prejudices, and motivations that inform Disney productions;

2. analyze literary, artistic, social, and cultural artifacts that are informed by—or that demonstrate—the tensions, anxieties, and aspirations embedded in Disney narratives;

3. reflect on their experiences as informed audiences whose personal dealings with reception, fandom, and marketing may offer points of potential intervention;

4. enhance their ability to express themselves both orally (through in-class participation) and in writing (through quizzes, essays, and examinations).
COURSE MATERIALS

2. Additional required readings will be posted on OWL. – Please refer to the latest version of the Course Calendar

A NOTE ON “SUPPLEMENTARY READINGS” You will find some readings listed as “Supplementary Readings” in the course calendar. These are just that: supplementary, meaning they may be helpful to read if you have interest or time. These may also be used as material for deepening your own knowledge in preparation for the Oral Exam or Critical Essay. They will NOT be included in any tests, quizzes, or examinations.

TECHNICAL REQUIREMENTS

1. A stable internet connection for weekly asynchronous viewing (screenings must be done at your own time)
2. OWL and UWO library access for screening links
3. Disney+ is helpful but not required

ANTIREQUISITES: Film Studies 2196A/B, if taken in 2016-2017

Unless you have either the requisites for this course or written special permission from your Dean to enroll in it, you may be removed from this course and it will be deleted from your record. This decision may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course for failing to have the necessary prerequisites.

A. Class Participation and Attendance

All students are expected to (1) complete all reading assignments and (2) participate in class discussions. Being a critical reader and film viewer, manifested in the ability to dialogue with assigned texts and formulate informed questions or opinions, is a skill that this class will try to foster. Remember that ATTENDANCE IS NOT PARTICIPATION.

Attendance, or physical presence throughout the entire class time, is mandatory and thus will be regularly checked. If you are not in class, you cannot participate in class discussions. In cases of excessive absenteeism (e.g. more than 9 unexcused hours for a half course, 18 for a full course), which are not accounted for by either academic consideration or accommodation, students may be debarred from taking the final examination, and will receive an official warning to this effect by or before the course drop date (see Senate policy). In classes with or without final exams, students who do not attend class will receive 0% for course participation grades. Unless other policies dictate a different set of penalties in specific English and Writing Studies programs, this will apply to all department programs. University policy on absences and accommodations for legitimate reasons will be observed.

Participation refers to meaningful immersion with the course material, demonstrated through thoughtful, consistent, and collegial engagement in class discussions, group activities, office hour consultations, and other instances where critical thought can be observably performed. This is a film studies course and it is therefore a reasonable expectation that you verbalize your insights around the films in discussion-based formats. Unless you have a documented speech disability or a case of debilitating social anxiety recognized by your academic counselor, I expect your engaged participation in each class.
B. Oral Exam
The Oral Exam will be a brief dialogue (30 minutes, give or take) between a small group of students and the instructor on predetermined topics. While the format is a roundtable conversation, each student will be marked individually. The topics will vary from week to week, and may come in the form of defining terms, synthesizing concepts, contextualizing an image, explaining a quote or statement, elaborating on a discussion point, etc. The Oral Exam will take place on time slots that students will sign up for at their convenience and will be ongoing throughout the term.

C. Semiotic Analysis
In pairs, students will be asked to analyze clips and/or images related to the assigned films, specifically with regards to visual signifiers and technical film aspects such as mise-en-scene, editing, sound, cinematography, etc.

D. Critical Writing Project
In small groups of 3 students, students are expected to pick a film outside the ones being screened in class and create a learner’s activity packet for a chosen demographic. The group must identify a specific issue or theme from their chosen film (e.g., colonialism in Pocahontas) and design 3 interactive and educational activities for their chosen demographic around this issue or theme. The group must also include a written document discussing the rationale for the activities and the critical justification for the issue that merits intervention. More details to be announced later on.

E. Final Exam
The final exams comprise identification, short answer, and essay-type questions. Key terms and concepts will be provided in advance to help students prepare for the exams.

GENERAL COURSE GUIDELINES
Students are expected to be both physically/virtually and mentally present in class; participation is integral to the learning experience. Use of electronic devices in-class should be for academic purposes only.

A. Email
Email correspondences will be sent often and the OWL site will be updated regularly. Please use your UWO email account for official inquiries and correspondences, and please allow up to 24 hours for a response (up to 48 hours over the weekend). Standard email etiquette is expected. NO ESSAYS SUBMITTED BY EMAIL WILL BE ACCEPTED.

NO EMAILS EXPLAINING ABSENCES PLEASE. If you are unable to be present in class, you CANNOT receive attendance or participation marks. If your absence merits reasonable accommodation (for example, for observing religious obligations, representing the University in an official capacity, medical emergencies, compassionate grounds, etc.), please get in touch with your academic counsellor. Please note that as of September 2022, the Self-Reported Absence tool has been discontinued.

B. Plagiarism and Academic Offenses
Students must write their essays and assignments in their own words. Whenever students take an idea or a passage of a text from another author, they must acknowledge their debt both by using quotation marks where appropriate, and by proper referencing such as footnotes and citations. Plagiarism is a major academic offense (see Scholastic Offense Policy in the Western Academic Calendar). The University of Western Ontario uses plagiarism checking software. Students may be required to submit their written work in electronic form for plagiarism checking.

All required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for the detection of plagiarism. All papers submitted will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system. Use of the service is subject to the licensing agreement currently between the University and Turnitin.com.
All instructor-written materials (e.g. PowerPoints, lecture notes, oral lectures) for this course are created solely for students’ personal use within the course, and remain the instructor’s intellectual property. Further reproduction, fixation, distribution, transmission, dissemination, communication, or any other uses, without securing the consent of the copyright owner (the course instructor) may be an infringement of copyright. You may not distribute, email, or otherwise communicate these materials to any other person. These limitations extend to recording, photographing, or sharing lectures (online or in-person) and lecture material without permission. Posting the instructor’s content from this course to online course sharing sites like OneClass or Course Hero without permission is both an infringement of intellectual property law and a violation of academic integrity guidelines. The instructor will pass these cases on to the Western University Ombudsperson or their Department Chair as appropriate.

Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, at the following Web site:
http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/handbook/appeals/scholastic_discipline_undergrad.pdf

C. Accommodation, Absenteeism, and Deadlines
All requirements must be submitted in a timely fashion, unless there are serious mitigating circumstances with official, university-approved documentation. Late submissions will incur a 5% Not Following Directions (NFD) penalty if submitted within three days of the deadline, but this may only be allowed ONCE throughout the term. No late submissions will be accepted thereafter.

If you are unable to meet a course requirement due to illness or other serious circumstances, please follow the procedures below:

Assessments worth less than 10% of the overall course grade: Please email me within 24 hours of an expected deadline to let me know if you will be unable to complete it.

Assessments worth 10% or more of the overall course grade: For work totaling 10% or more of the final course grade, you must provide valid medical or supporting documentation to the Academic Counselling Office of your Faculty of Registration as soon as possible. For further information, please consult the University’s medical illness policy at https://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/accommodation_medical.pdf.

In general, students seeking academic accommodation for any missed tests, exams, participation components and/or assignments must apply to the Academic Counseling office of their home Faculty and provide documentation. The same is true for accommodation requests pertaining to known disabilities or medical conditions. Academic accommodation cannot be granted by the instructor or department. Please find UWO’s Policy on Accommodation for Medical Illness here: https://studentservices.uwo.ca/secure/index.cfm

Students with disabilities work with Accessible Education (formerly SSD) which provides recommendations for accommodation based on medical documentation or psychological and cognitive testing. The accommodation policy can be found here: Academic Accommodation for Students with Disabilities.

Documentation shall be submitted, as soon as possible, to the Office of the Dean of the student’s Faculty of registration, together with a request for relief specifying the nature of the accommodation being requested. The Student Medical Certificate (SMC) can be found at https://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/medicalform.pdf.

The full policy is set out here: https://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/accommodation_medical.pdf.
D. Grade Review / Re-considerations
I strive to be as thorough and transparent as possible in all my marking. Thus, rubrics will always be provided for any assignment. In the event that you are dissatisfied with the mark you receive for any assignment, I am open to providing further feedback and hearing requests for reconsiderations on the basis of rubrics and academic merit ONLY. This means reasons such as “I am applying for X program or scholarship”, “I worked really hard on this assignment”, “I need X mark in this course” are never valid reasons for grade appeals. Any conversation about further feedback DOES NOT constitute automatic grade increases or appeal approvals.

E. Contingency plan for an in-person class pivoting to 100% online learning
In the event of a COVID-19 resurgence during the course that necessitates the course delivery moving away from face-to-face interaction, affected course content will be delivered entirely online, either synchronously (i.e., at the times indicated in the timetable) or asynchronously (e.g., posted on OWL for students to view at their convenience). The grading scheme will NOT change. Any remaining assessments will also be conducted online as determined by the course instructor.
