PREREQUISITE Philosophy 2260F/G

DESCRIPTION

A survey of foundational and highly influential texts from 20th Century Analytic Philosophy of Language. Emphasis will be on twin topics of special interest to contemporary linguistic theorizing: 1) contrasting conceptions of linguistic meaning, including Frege-Russell-Davidson style truth-conditional approaches; Ordinary Language Philosophy's use-oriented approaches; and the mentalist semantics familiar from Grice and generative grammar. 2) The contrast between semantics vs. pragmatics and attempts to trace a boundary between them. This latter section will conclude with a detailed case study on definite descriptions, indexicals and singular reference. Authors include: Austin, Davidson, Donnellan, Fodor, Frege, Grice, Kaplan, Kripke, Russell, Searle, Strawson and Wittgenstein.

TEXTS

Robert J. Stainton (2000). Perspectives in the Philosophy of Language. Peterborough: Broadview.

Paul Elbourne (2011). Meaning: A Slim Guide to Semantics. Oxford: Oxford University Press.

- Note: Kripke's "Speaker's Reference and Semantic Reference" and Kaplan's "Demonstratives" will be made available online

REQUIREMENTS

In-Class Participation: 10%

“Briefing Notes” on Selected Philosophical Readings: 50%

Glossary: 15%

In-Class Exam: 25%

• Briefing Notes: At the outset of the relevant classes, students will hand in two to three pages of typewritten notes on the chapter assigned. (750-1000 words is appropriate.) These “briefing notes” will consist of two parts: an outline of the main argument being made (which is not typically a section-by-section outline of the paper), and some critical questions and comments.

• Exam: The in-class exam will cover all the material presented up to that point.

AUDIT

Students wishing to audit the course should consult with the instructor prior to or during the first week of classes.

ACCOMMODATION

Students seeking academic accommodation on medical grounds for any missed tests, exams, participation components and/or assignments worth 10% or more of their final grade must apply to the Academic Counselling office of their home Faculty and provide documentation. Academic accommodation cannot be granted by the instructor or department. Documentation shall be submitted, as soon as possible, to the Office of the Dean of the student’s Faculty of registration, together with a request for relief specifying the nature of the accommodation being requested.

The UWO Policy on Accommodation for Medical Illness and further information regarding this policy can be found at.

EVALUATION OF ACADEMIC PERFORMANCE

Ordinarily, at least three days prior to the deadline for withdrawal from a course without academic penalty, students will receive assessment of work accounting for at least 15% of their final grade. For this 4000-level course in the Summer term, however, such a graded assessment is impracticable. An exemption from this policy from the Dean has been secured.

COURSE ASSIGNMENT

The last day of scheduled classes in any course will be the last day on which course assignments will be accepted for credit in a course. Instructors will be required to return assignments to students as promptly as possible with reasonable explanations of the instructor's assessment of the assignment.

ACADEMIC OFFENCES

Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, at the following Web site: http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/scholastic_discipline_undergrad.pdf

PLAGIARISM CHECKING

In addition to submitted hard copies of assignments for blind grading, all required papers must also be submitted for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for the detection of plagiarism. All papers submitted for such checking will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system. Use of the service is subject to the licensing agreement, currently between The University of Western Ontario and Turnitin.com <http://www.turnitin.com>.
