Description: The Master's seminar in research methods is the foundational course for the MFA in studio and the MA in art history. The course is an integrated context for reading, analysis of art works, and engagement with relevant practices by studio and art history students, in a shared context. It combines a theoretical component involving a survey of some key movements in contemporary critical theory with a methods component focusing respectively on the development of tools for art making, related writing, and the use of professional skills by artists; and on art historical research methods and the development of critical writing skills, and the use of professional tools by art historians.

Outcomes: The point of this course is to learn how to research, read, talk, and write about art from multiple vantage points, whether as an artist, historian, critic, curator, and how to address different audiences such as gallery goers, artists, students, or granting boards. In the end, it is hoped that you'll have a better understanding of the requirements and methods of the visual arts, some of the theoretical concerns, and why you are continuing to study all this stuff.

Assignments & Evaluation:

20% - 10-minute and 3-minute presentations, Sept. 17 & 24.

15% - MFA/work presentation (exhibition proposal); MA/research presentation (conference proposal), due Oct. 8.

15% - Literature review on your art/research topic, due Oct. 29.

Warnings!

Student Responsibilities and Preparations:

Students are expected to attend all classes punctually and participate in all class discussions and critiques. Students are required to come to all classes with the necessary materials to participate that day.

Attendance:

Attendance and punctuality are mandatory.

Extensions and Late Penalties:

Extensions will be granted in exceptional circumstances and typically only in cases of illness, bereavement or for other compassionate reasons. Late assignments not accompanied by official documentation will receive a penalty of 2% per day. If you suspect that you will be unable to meet a deadline, please contact the instructor as soon as possible.

Submission of Work:

Only electronic copies of written assignments will be accepted.

Academic Honesty & Plagiarism:

All forms of plagiarism are serious academic offenses and are subject to strict penalties. All work must be your own, and when you rely on the research of others you must cite the provenance of the material in notes and bibliographies. When citing sources you must use the Chicago Manual of Style, Humanities format. Submitting the same work for credit in more than one course is plagiarism. When in doubt about what constitutes plagiarism, consult with your professors and/or the Writing Centre AHEAD of the submission date. Plagiarism, which may be defined as "The act or an instance of copying or stealing another's words or ideas and attributing them as one's own," will not be tolerated. (Citation excerpted from Black's Law Dictionary, 1999, 7th ed., p. 1170). (Refer to <http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/2013/pg113.html> or the 2013/2014 Western Academic.

Respect:

Any contravention of the UWO Code of Student Conduct or Non-Discrimination and Harassment Policy will not be tolerated. Every effort will be made to foster and maintain a respectful environment.

OWL – Sakai:

Resources including most course readings will be posted to OWL - Sakai. For copyright reasons these postings might be of short duration. If you wish to share resources with the class, consult with me and I will make arrangements so that the documents can be posted to Sakai, or distributed by other means.

Writing Centre: 217 UCC:

The Writing Centre is part of the Effective Writing program at western and is open to both undergraduate and graduate students. It offers instruction on all aspects of writing and is not merely for students who have difficulty with writing. The one-on-one tutoring sessions can be very helpful in improving writing and editorial skills.
