What the beyond of teaching is really about is not finishing oneself, not passing, not completing; it’s about allowing subjectivity to be unlawfully overcome by others, a radical passion and passivity such that one becomes unfit for subjection, because one does not possess the kind of agency that can hold the regulatory forces of subjecthood, and one cannot initiate the auto-interpellative torque that biopower subjection requires and rewards.

- Stefano Harney & Fred Moten

Make no mistake, I only achieve simplicity with enormous effort.

- Clarice Lispector

The act of refusing to put down words, or crossing out words already down, while you concentrate on the vision you are writing about, makes new words come. What’s more, when you refuse language your mind offers up, something happens to the next batch offered. The words are not the same ones that would have come if you hadn’t doubted.

- Samuel R. Delany

Improve your films not by adding more equipment and personnel but by using what you have to its fullest capacity. The most important part of your equipment is yourself: your mobile body, your imaginative mind, and your freedom to use both. Make sure you do use them.

- Maya Deren

Course Description:

This course is designed to provide an opportunity for MFA students to participate in an exchange dedicated to the research and development of their studio practice. Students will be asked to participate by contributing to informal studio reviews that will be scheduled throughout the term. These group meetings may review work-in-progress; access ongoing technical concerns; assist with immediate needs of a project’s concept and execution; develop an appropriate language for evaluation and critique; and involve discussion on related issues. Students will be required to present their work for critique at the end of the year.

Learning Outcomes:

Learning, How Come?
Course Materials:
A computer with internet access. Materials specific to each student's studio practice.

Evaluation Breakdown:

Class Participation and Attendance 20%
Dossier: Writing/Documentation/Presentation/Website/Etc. 20%
Studio (mid) 20%
Studio (final) 40%

Class Participation and Attendance
- Assessed quantitatively (1% per class) and qualitatively (the remaining 8%).

Writing/Documentation/Presentation/Website/Etc.
- The presentation of research done in parallel to the studio practice. The format is open. It could be a 30 minute in-class presentation, a website, a writing workshop, etc. You are welcome to discuss format ideas with me. Unless otherwise arranged the default will be four components, each worth 5%: 1) Website, 2) Presentation, 3) Journal (tracking studio visits and crits), 4) Dossier assembling all of the above plus a 1-2 page intro. Submit as PDF.

Studio (mid)
- Crits during the semester leading up to the final crits will be graded solely by the instructor.

Studio (final)
- Department graduate faculty members attending the formal studio critique at the end of the term will submit to the course instructor recommended grades for the student. The critique grade will be determined by averaging the recommended grade of the Committee, the Advisor and the Instructor. This averaged grade will count for 40% of the total grade for the course (1/3 the Instructor, 1/3 the Advisor, and 1/3 an average of other faculty in attendance comprise the grade for the final critique).
