I. Course Description and Objectives

Examine Mexico City through its history of continuous transformations from the Aztec empire to the megalopolis it is today. Identify traces of the various pasts in the city’s contemporary urban landscape and daily life through art, film and literature. Comparisons to other Latin American cities will be drawn. This course is taught in English.

II. Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this course, students will:
- Understand broader, underlying socio-historical changes that inform visual and literary representations of a unique Latin American city during the past seven hundred years;
- Develop knowledge of some of the major artistic representations of Mexico City, and other cities of Latin America, across a range of images and texts;
- Engage in visual interpretations of the social and urban space through art, films, literature and other media;
- Debate the role of emblematic historical figures and issues crucial to the future of Mexico City and other Latin American cities;
- Discuss the coexistence of the sacred and the secular by examining the works of artists, writers and directors;
- Assess the interplay between artistic endeavours and economical, political and religious powers.
V. Evaluation

Participation (15%):
The success of the course depends on the frequency and quality of the participation of its members. Being present in class does not necessarily imply participating in it. Similarly, being absent from class on a repetitive basis will seriously affect the participation mark.

Assigned readings should be done prior to class to be adequately discussed in class. Students will be asked to submit topics for discussion in advance to the professor (readings with *). This will also be taken into consideration as part of the participation.

Students are expected to arrive to class on time, and to conduct themselves during class in a professional and respectful manner that is not disruptive to others.

Students are expected to attend every class unless medical circumstances prevent them from doing so (please see section below on department policies).

When absent, it is still the student’s responsibility to complete and turn in coursework on time and catch up on the material covered in class. Students must inform their professor by email of any absence as soon as possible.

Reflection paper (20%): Tell me about your experience reading of Daniel Hernandez, Down & Delirious in Mexico City. The Aztec Metropolis in the Twenty-First Century. Further information will be provided in class. Due October 6.

Photo essay (20%): Create your own photo album of Mexico City! This assignment provides you with the opportunity to explore Mexico City through the camera lens. It is designed as an exercise in cultural observation, which encourages you to explore your artistic imagination and ethnographic skills. Further information will be provided in class. Due November 10.

Mexico City collage (20%): Collages are pictures composed by gluing papers and various other objects to a ground, with the intention of transforming the most commonplace materials into creative works of art. Think of this assignment as your chance to create your own image of Mexico City using a pasting technique of different objects. Be creative! No need to be an artist! Further information will be provided in class. Due December 8.

Debate (20% + 5%): According to the calendar of activities, students divided in small groups are expected to present a topic in relation to an assigned reading, animate and moderate the debate that their presentation will generate. Preferably by group of 4-5 people. This activity, in total, should cover the 50 minutes of the class. Further information will be provided in class. Date TBA.
PLEASE NOTE: For group activities, the same grade will be given to all members of a group. However, you will be provided with a rubric to assess the collaboration of each member of your team.

The assignments will be graded on research, originality of thesis and approach, argument, structure and style (see below for more information). All written assignments must be in Times New Roman, 12 point font (no other font will be accepted), double-spaced, and prepared according to the citation style pertinent to your field (Chicago or MLA).

IMPORTANT: The only acceptable reason for turning in a late assignment or missing an examination is for medical purposes (see section on departmental policies below). Late assignments will lose 5 points per day (on 100%). Assignments turned in a week after the due date (7 days) will not be accepted and will receive a grade of “0.”

E-MAIL POLICY AND ETIQUETTE: Generally, all emails will be responded to within 24-48 hours during weekdays (excluding holidays). Emails will usually be addressed during regular work hours (9-5). The instructor may choose, at her discretion, to respond outside these hours, depending on availability.

Prior to emailing me, please make sure that the answer to your question is not contained in the syllabus.

An email etiquette is expected from your emails. Include a courteous greeting and closing. Please identify yourself properly.

Students are responsible for regularly checking their email, and the course OWL site for new notices related to the course.

VI. DEPARTMENTAL AND UNIVERSITY POLICIES

Prerequisite Checking:

You are responsible for ensuring that you have successfully completed all course prerequisites and that you have not taken an antirequisite course. Lack of prerequisites may not be used as basis of appeal. If you are not eligible for a course, you may be removed from it at any time, and you will receive no adjustment to your fees. These decisions cannot be appealed.

Plagiarism:

Plagiarism, which may be defined as “The act or an instance of copying or stealing another’s words or ideas and attributing them as one’s own,” will not be tolerated. (Citation excerpted from Black’s Law Dictionary, 1999, 7th ed., p. 1170). This includes presenting the visual or aural work of another creator as your own. Visual or Aural Plagiarism may involve both hand-based media such as drawing, painting, printmaking and sculpture, as well as digital media such as photography, video and sound. It includes work subsequently manipulated or transferred between different media, as well as self-plagiarism – work submitted for assignments previously produced and graded for another course. Similar to textual plagiarism, all student work involving the visual or aural work of others must be appropriately cited/identified whether in print or orally. Failure to do so will lead to similar academic penalties as those identified in Western’s Academic Calendar.

Student Conduct:
All students will conduct themselves in a manner that will be consistent with the maturity and academic integrity expected of university students. Student conduct shall be consistent with the general laws of the community and with University regulations. Students shall show regard and respect for the rights, safety, and property of all members of the University community and are expected to act in a responsible manner within the University and the community at large.

Academic Sanctions:

In instances of non-payment of prescribed tuition and other fees, the University shall seal the academic record. When an academic record is sealed, the student will not be able to: a) view grades; b) register in future courses; c) receive transcripts or a degree diploma; d) obtain admission or readmission.

The above prohibitions shall be in force until such time as indebtedness to the University, including payment of fee for removal of the seal, has been cleared to the satisfaction of the University.

Additional Course Material Request Policy

For online courses the material may be presented in a variety of ways at the instructor’s discretion. Requests for additional material can only be made in cases necessitating academic accommodation. If a student requires Academic Accommodation for the course material, they can contact Western’s Academic Support & Engagement department.

http://academicsupport.uwo.ca/

Academic Consideration:

Students will have up to two (2) opportunities during the regular academic year to use an on-line portal to self-report an absence during the term, provided the following conditions are met: the absence is no more than 48 hours in duration, and the assessment for which consideration is being sought is worth 30% or less of the student’s final grade. Students are expected to contact their instructors within 24 hours of the end of the period of the self-reported absence, unless noted on the syllabus. Students are not able to use the self-reporting option in the following circumstances:

- for exams scheduled by the Office of the Registrar (e.g., December and April exams)
- absence of a duration greater than 48 hours,
- assessments worth more than 30% of the student’s final grade,
- if a student has already used the self-reporting portal twice during the academic year

If the conditions for a Self-Reported Absence are not met, students will need to provide a Student Medical Certificate if the absence is medical, or provide appropriate documentation if there are compassionate grounds for the absence in question. Students are encouraged to contact their Faculty academic counselling office to obtain more information about the relevant documentation.

Students should also note that individual instructors are not permitted to receive documentation directly from a student, whether in support of an application for consideration on medical grounds, or for other reasons. All documentation required for absences that are not covered by the Self-Reported Absence Policy must be submitted to the Academic Counselling office of a student’s Home Faculty.

For Western University policy on Consideration for Student Absence, see

Policy on Academic Consideration for Student Absences - Undergraduate Students in First Entry Programs and for the Student Medical Certificate (SMC), see:

Attendance:

Under university regulations, if someone misses more than 15% of their classes (15% is equivalent to missing 8 hours of Lecture and/or Studio Lab, due to absence or lateness, or a combination of both, per semester) without written corroboration for health or bereavement, students can be debarred from participation in final evaluations and/or assignments.

Note that if a student is consistently absent from a 3-hour class for 1 hour, they will exceed the 15% cutoff and be debarred; assignments may stop being accepted and such assignments will receive a mark of 0 (zero).

Religious Accommodation

Students should consult the University's list of recognized religious holidays, and should give reasonable notice in writing, prior to the holiday, to the Instructor and an Academic Counsellor if their course requirements will be affected by a religious observance. Additional information is given in the Western Multicultural Calendar.

80-89 (Excellent, A) The writing shows originality and exhibits a high degree of critical engagement. Writing is probing through the use of comments and/or questions, and is clearly focused and logically organized. The quality of writing immediately engages the reader. Mastery of complex materials and ideas is demonstrated. The writing is of appropriate length, and demonstrates mastery of techniques so that results are meaningful and not simplistic. Regarding research, a majority of the secondary sources pertaining to the topic have been consulted and proper citation has been used.

75-79 (Very Good, B+) The writing shows above average analysis, critical thinking and independent thought. Written claims are supported by ample evidence and the components of the topic are well-researched and presented. The work is addressed in reasonable depth and/or breadth and covers material appropriate to the course. Written analysis is organized around focal points and the development of the argument is easily followed.
