Class time: asynchronous online course

COURSE DESCRIPTION

By the time the United States and the Soviet Union emerged as superpowers after the Second World War, the utopian dreams of pre-war modernism had shattered. Artists, intellectuals, and other cultural practitioners, struggling to come to terms with the horrors of the war and the threat of nuclear annihilation, explored alternate visions. Taking a thematic approach, this course examines art and exhibitions of the Cold War (1947-1991) in Europe and North America in relation to the social and political context of the period. We consider major movements in art, alongside the issues that influenced them: abstract expressionism and individualism versus collectivism; international exhibitions and cultural diplomacy; pop art and the rise of mass consumerism; conceptual art, performance, and political movements; appropriation and the growth of corporate culture, and more. This is an asynchronous online course.

Western University is located on the traditional lands of the Anishinaabek, Haudenosaunee, Lūnaapéewak, and Chonnonton (Neutral) peoples.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

- explain the relation between key artistic movements of the period 1947-91 and the social and political context of the Cold War
- describe and analyze the formal properties of a range of art works using appropriate terminology and discuss artworks in relation to stylistic movements
- analyze the role of cultural diplomacy during the Cold War
- conduct research using library resources, including books and databases, and use the sources effectively in an academic essay
- articulate an argument in writing, support the argument using appropriate evidence, and address counter arguments
- participate constructively in online discussions and respond respectfully to the views of others

ASSESSMENTS

DUE DATES & GRADING

Assignment	Due date	Grading
Participation	Weekly	10%
Quizzes on readings	Weekly	10%
Written assignments based on lectures	Oct 10 @ 5 pm Nov 21 @ 5 pm	15% x 2 = 30%
Interpretive label presentation	Dec 1 @ 5 pm	15%
Research essay	Dec 8 @ 5 pm	35%

PARTICIPATION 10% (weekly)

The participation portion of your grade will be based on your contributions to online discussions and activities. Please note that even though the course is asynchronous, there is a weekly schedule. You are expected to complete course work on a weekly basis, and this includes contributions to online discussions. We will use VoiceThread for our discussions.

QUIZZES ON READINGS – 10% (weekly)

Quizzes on the assigned readings are in OWL. Most weeks, there is one reading and one quiz; however, there are two readings with two quizzes for week 4. Each quiz has five questions. Use these quizzes to help guide your reading and for some feedback on how well you are understanding the material. Any quiz that is not completed on time (within the week it is assigned) will receive a grade of 0. If a student has academic accommodation for more than one week, the missed quiz will be given the average grade of the completed quizzes.

RESEARCH PROJECT – interpretive label presentation 15%, and final essay 35%

For this assignment, select one of the questions from the supplied list. This will be the basis for your interpretive label and your final essay.

Interpretive label presentation

Select one artwork by the artist you are researching for your final essay. Write a 150-word interpretive label for the work. Your didactic should include all the relevant identifying information (artist, title, date, materials, collection), and it should help viewers engage with the artwork. In your presentation, explain your choice of artwork, read your interpretive label, and discuss what you focused on and why. Presentations should be approximately 5-10 minutes. Create and narrate your presentation using power point or another presentation software, and upload your presentation to VoiceThread.

Essay:

Your final essay should be approximately 8 pages / 2000 words. Select one of the questions from the supplied list and address it in your final essay. Your thesis will be your answer to the question. If you would like to propose your own question, you are required to send it to me for approval by October 27. You should use at least five published sources for your research. Include a bibliography at the end of your paper. Your bibliography may include books, journal articles, and exhibition catalogues. (Reputable websites can be used, but they do not count towards the five sources). Include any images that are important for your argument. Submit the research essay as a Word document or PDF in the Assignments section of OWL.

WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS 15% x 2 + 30%

There are two written assignments based on the weekly lecture videos. They are comprised of short answer and essay questions based on the weekly learning outcomes. You will have approximately one week to complete them, in addition to the other work assigned for that week. In the rare case where a student has academic accommodation for more than one week, the value of the missed mid-term assignment will be reweighted to the final assignment. In the case of a missed final assignment, where a student has academic accommodation for more than one week, a make-up assignment will be provided.

POLICIES ON LATE OR MISSED ASSESSMENTS

Extensions, granted for valid reasons, must be negotiated before assignments are due. Late assignments will be penalized by 5% each day. Exceptions to the late penalties are outlined below under academic consideration.

Academic Consideration:

The University recognizes that a student's ability to meet their academic responsibilities may, on occasion, be impaired by extenuating circumstances, including short-term illness or injury. Reasonable academic consideration is a cooperative process between the University, the student, and academic staff. All participants in the process must act in good faith, and fulfil their respective obligations, if it is to succeed.

Students who experience an extenuating circumstance (illness, injury, or other extenuating circumstance) sufficiently significant as to temporarily render them unable to meet academic requirements, may submit a request for academic consideration through the following routes:

- a. Submitting a Self-Reported Absence form, provided that the conditions for submission are met;
- b. For medical absences, submitting a Student Medical Certificate (SMC) signed by a licensed medical or mental health practitioner, in order to be eligible for Academic Consideration; or
- c. For non-medical absences, submitting appropriate documentation (e.g., obituary, police report, accident report, court order, etc.) to Academic Counselling in their Faculty of registration, in order to be eligible for academic consideration.

Students seeking academic consideration:

- Are advised to consider carefully the implications of postponing tests or midterm exams or delaying handing in work;
- Are encouraged to make appropriate decisions, based on their specific circumstances, recognizing that minor ailments (e.g., upset stomach) or upsets (e.g., argument with a friend) are not normally an appropriate basis for a self-reported absence;
- Must communicate with their instructors no later than 24 hours after the end of the period covered by either the self-reported absence or SMC, or immediately upon their return following a documented absence;
- Are advised that all necessary documentation, forms, etc. are to be submitted to academic counselling within two business days after the date specified for resuming responsibilities
- Late assessments without a self-reported absence or appropriate documentation will be subject to a late penalty of 5% per day

Students who experience an unexpected illness or injury or an extenuating circumstance (48 hours or less) that is sufficiently severe as to temporarily render them unable to meet academic requirements (e.g., attending lectures or labs, writing tests or midterm exams, completing and submitting assignments, participating in presentations) should self-declare using the online Self-Reported Absence portal. This option should be used in situations where the student expects to resume academic responsibilities within 48 hours or less. The following conditions are in place for self-reporting of medical or extenuating circumstances:

- a. Students will be allowed a maximum of two self-reported absences between September and April, and one self-reported absence between May and August;
- b. The duration of the excused absence will be for a maximum of 48 hours from the time the Self-Reported Absence form is completed through the online portal, or from 8:30am the following morning if the form is submitted after 4:30pm;
- c. The duration of the excused absence will terminate prior to the end of the 48-hour period, should the student undertake significant academic responsibilities (e.g., write a test, submit a paper) during that time;
- d. The duration of an excused absence will terminate at 8:30am on the day following the last day of classes each semester, regardless of how many days of absence have elapsed;
- e. Self-reported absences will not be allowed for scheduled final examinations; for midterm examinations scheduled during the December examination period; or for final lab examinations
- f. Self-reporting may not be used for assessments (e.g., midterm exams, tests, reports, presentations, or essays) worth more than 30% of any given course;
- g. Students must be in touch with their instructors no later than 24 hours after the end of the period covered by the Self-Reported Absence form, to clarify how they will be expected to fulfil the academic expectations they may have missed.
- h. Late assessments with a self-reported absence should be submitted within 24 hours of submission of the last absence

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

All work for the course MUST be entirely your own. All sources that you use for your assignments must be accurately cited. If you have doubts about how and when to cite sources, it is better to err on the side of caution. Consult the academic integrity lesson on OWL and / or consult with me before assignment due dates. All course work must be completed specifically for this course. Submitting the same work for credit in more than one course is considered cheating. Plagiarism and cheating are very serious academic offences and they will be dealt with strictly. Plagiarism includes:

1. Quoting verbatim or almost verbatim from any source, including all electronic sources, without acknowledgement;
2. Adopting someone else's line of thought, argument, or supporting evidence without acknowledgement;
3. Submitting someone else's work, in any form, without acknowledgement;
4. Knowingly representing another person's idea as one's own.

For information concerning Western's Plagiarism and Academic Offences (Scholastic Offences) policies see: www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/2016/pg113.html#

All assignments are subject to review through plagiarism detection software. The University uses Turnitin.com for this purpose. Turnitin is an anti-plagiarism tool that screens assignments against a database of the Internet, e-journals, e-books, and a range of other scanned material, including other assignments for this course. All papers submitted for checking will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system.

CITATION STYLE

The Chicago Manual of Style, Humanities format, is the standard style for art history. Use this style to cite your sources for your research paper and other assignments. Please refer to the guide in OWL and the Library website for examples: <http://www.lib.uwo.ca/services/styleguides.html>.
