Visualizing Foodways: Art + Food from Hemispheric Perspectives
Online asynchronous
Winter 2023

Instructor: Dr. Zoë Heyn-Jones
Office hours: Online by appointment
Email: zheynjon@uwo.ca

Course Description:
This course will focus on critical artistic approaches to food and agriculture from hemispheric perspectives. Drawing on theory from the environmental humanities, critical plant studies, feminist perspectives, Latin American studies and biological arts, we will examine our relationships with the world through the food that we eat. Students will engage with these ideas through reading, making (studio, kitchen, garden), interdisciplinary, research-creation approaches and examples (theory, art, fiction, etc.) with a particular focus on agroecology and hemispheric thinking. Over the winter semester, students develop their own research/research-creation projects as well as actively develop a community of inquiry through various asynchronous modes of online engagement.

Intended Learning Outcomes:
This course examines the intersection of food studies and the arts, through creative practice, critical theory, and works that explore environmental and food justice. By the end of the course students will:

- Be conversant in some contemporary food issues and food systems from a local and global perspective, with a particular emphasis on the Americas.
- Be able to apply theory from food studies, plant studies, and contemporary art towards critical and creative analysis of these fields as they relate to one another.
- Through practice or analysis of practice, students will engage with interdisciplinary research-creation, and related modes of knowledge production.
- Articulate core concepts in the environmental humanities, plant studies and food studies through cultural production.
- Critically engage with the visual (sonic, performative, etc.) language(s) of food, food studies and food justice activism.
COURSE FORMAT:
The course is divided into weeks in the Course Content tab on the left side of OWL. Each week has a separate section here on the OWL course website. The weekly sections will be open to you on Sunday at 11:55 pm for the upcoming week. When the week is available, you will see it in the course content section. Navigating and clicking on that week will bring you to a page with all the relevant information for that week. This page will contain a checklist for the week, your assigned readings, lecture videos, and reflection questions to consider for your forum posts.

DETAILED ASSIGNMENT INSTRUCTIONS

Weekly responses through forum posts: Submit a response to the weekly theme, guiding questions, and/or materials by making a post in the class forum on OWL. Responses should be reflective and conversational (i.e. informal but legible) and approximately 2-3 paragraphs or 350-500 words each.

Building a community of inquiry: Respond to at least 2 of your colleagues’ forum posts and/or “Take Action” exercises every week. This is crucial to engagement and success in asynchronous courses, and puts a focus on students constructing their understanding of the content together.

“Take Action” exercises: Each week you will be prompted to take action in some way, from recording and uploading short videos, to making a social media post, to cooking a dish. More instructions will follow on a weekly basis.

Final research/research-creation project proposal: Submit a 500-word proposal for your final project (see below).

Final research/research-creation project: Final projects are individually tailored. You will receive extensive feedback on your project proposal and should arrange an appointment to discuss your project during office hours. This is the major assignment in the class, and while students are encouraged to creatively engage with course content, the outcome should be equivalent to a well-researched, polished, 12-15 page research paper drawing on a minimum of 8 academic sources. Two-dimensional or online projects can be submitted via OWL. Three dimensional projects will need to be submitted via photo and video documentation through OWL, or some other form as agreed upon in consultation.
Late Assignment Policy:
Flexibility in accommodating student needs is important, however deadlines exist to keep students on track while working through the course materials. Responses and discussion deadlines and those for collaborative assignments are especially time sensitive and should be met. Late assignments will be docked a full letter grade (10%) per day unless other arrangements with the instructor are made. In cases of inability to meet a deadline, please contact me as soon as possible in advance of the deadline to make arrangements. For illness, refer to the section below regarding Academic Consideration.

Department and University Policies:

Prerequisite Checking:
You are responsible for ensuring that you have successfully completed all course prerequisites and that you have not taken an antirequisite course. Lack of prerequisites may not be used as a basis of appeal. If you are not eligible for a course, you may be removed from it at any time, and you will receive no adjustment to your fees. These decisions cannot be appealed.

Plagiarism:
Plagiarism, which may be defined as “The act or an instance of copying or stealing another’s words or ideas and attributing them as one’s own,” will not be tolerated. (Citation excerpted from Black’s Law Dictionary, 1999, 7th ed., p. 1170). This includes presenting the visual or aural work of another creator as your own. Visual or Aural Plagiarism may involve both hand-based media such as drawing, painting, printmaking and sculpture, as well as digital media such as photography, video and sound. It includes work subsequently manipulated or transferred between different media, as well as self-plagiarism – work submitted for assignments previously produced and graded for another course. Similar to textual plagiarism, all student work involving the visual or aural work of others must be appropriately cited/identified whether in print or orally. Failure to do so will lead to similar academic penalties as those identified in Western’s Academic Calendar.

Student Conduct:
All students will conduct themselves in a manner that will be consistent with the maturity and academic integrity expected of university students. Student conduct shall be consistent with the general laws of the community and with University regulations. Students shall show regard and respect for the rights, safety, and property of all members of the University community and are expected to act in a responsible manner within the University and the community at large.

Academic Sanctions:
In instances of non-payment of prescribed tuition and other fees, the University shall seal the academic record. When an academic record is sealed, the student will not be able to: a) view grades; b) register in future courses; c) receive transcripts or a degree diploma; d) obtain admission or readmission.

The above prohibitions shall be in force until such time as indebtedness to the University, including payment of fee for removal of the seal, has been cleared to the satisfaction of the University.

Additional Course Material Request Policy
For online courses the material may be presented in a variety of ways at the instructor’s discretion. Requests for additional material can only be made in cases necessitating academic accommodation. If a student requires Academic Accommodation for the course material, they can contact Western’s Academic Support & Engagement department. http://academicsupport.uwo.ca/

Academic Consideration:
The University recognizes that a student’s ability to meet their academic responsibilities may, on occasion, be impaired by medical illness. Illness may be acute (short term), or it may be chronic (long term), or chronic with acute episodes. The University further recognizes that medical situations are deeply personal and respects the need for privacy and confidentiality in these matters. However, in order to ensure fairness and consistency for all students, academic accommodation for work representing 10% or more of the student’s overall grade in the course shall be granted only in those cases where there is documentation indicating that the student was seriously affected by illness and could not reasonably be expected to meet their academic responsibilities.

Documentation shall be submitted, as soon as possible, to the appropriate Dean’s office (the Office of the Dean of the student’s Faculty of registration/home Faculty) together with a request for relief specifying the nature of the accommodation being requested. These documents will be retained in the student’s file, and will be held in confidence in accordance with the University’s Official Student Record Information Privacy Policy. Once the petition and supporting documents have been received and assessed, appropriate academic accommodation shall be determined by the Dean’s Office in consultation with the student’s instructor(s). Academic accommodation may include extension of deadlines, waiver of attendance requirements for classes/labs/tutorials, arranging Special Exams or Incompletes, re-weighting course requirements, or granting late withdrawals without academic penalty. Academic accommodation shall be granted only where the documentation indicates that the onset, duration and severity of the illness are such that the student could not reasonably be expected to complete their academic responsibilities.

(Note – it will not be sufficient to provide documentation indicating simply that the student “was seen for a medical reason” or “was ill.”)

Whenever possible, students who require academic accommodation should provide notification and documentation in advance of due dates, examinations, etc. Students must follow up with their professors and their Academic Counselling office in a timely manner. Documentation from Family Physicians/Nurse Practitioners and Walk-In Clinics A Western Student Medical Certificate (SMC) is required where a student is seeking academic accommodation. This documentation should be obtained at the time of the initial consultation with the physician/nurse practitioner or walk-in clinic. An SMC can be downloaded at http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/medicalform.pdf.

At the time of illness, students should make an appointment with a physician/nurse practitioner at Student Health Services. During this appointment, request a Student Medical Certificate from the Physician/Nurse Practitioner.

Students should request that an SMC be filled out. Students may bring this form with them, or request alternative Emergency Department documentation. Documentation should be secured at the time of the initial visit to the Emergency Department. Where it is not possible for a student to have an SMC completed by the attending physician, the student must request documentation sufficient to demonstrate that their ability to meet their academic responsibilities was seriously affected.

Instructors are encouraged, in the first instance, to arrange participation requirements and multiple small assignments in such a way as to allow students some flexibility.

Attendance:
Under university regulations, if someone misses more than 15% of their classes (15% is equivalent to missing 8 hours of Lecture and/or Studio Lab, due to absence or lateness, or a combination of both, per semester) without written corroboration for health or bereavement, students can be debarred from participation in final evaluations and/or assignments.

Note that if a student is consistently absent from a 3-hour class for 1 hour, they will exceed the 15% cutoff and be debarred; assignments may stop being accepted and such assignments will receive a mark of 0 (zero).

Religious Accommodation:
Students should consult the University's list of recognized religious holidays, and should give reasonable notice in writing, prior to the holiday, to the Instructor and an Academic Counsellor if their course requirements will be affected by a religious observance. Additional information is given in the Western Multicultural Calendar.

Electronic Devices:

During Exams: Unless you have medical accommodations that require you to do so, or explicit permission from the instructor of the course, you may not use any electronic devices during any tests, quizzes, midterms, examinations, or other in-class evaluations.

During Lectures and Tutorials:
Although you are welcome to use a computer during lecture and tutorial periods, you are expected to use the computer for scholastic purposes only, and refrain from engaging in any activities that may distract other students from learning. From time to time, your professor may ask the class to turn off all computers, to facilitate learning or discussion of the material presented in class. Unless explicitly noted otherwise, you may not make audio or video recordings of lectures – nor may you edit, re-use, distribute, or re-broadcast any of the material posted to the course website.
