Calendar Description
Continuation of drawing as perceptual, technical, conceptual and critical problem solving and as a basis for exploration with other media and disciplines.

Course Description
SA 3611 is a synchronous online studio course engaging drawing as a tool of material and conceptual inquiry and as the basis of a studio practice in its own right. Emphasis will be placed on exploratory and research-based approaches using traditional and expanded drawing media. Studio exercises and assignments will be supported by ongoing readings, lectures, critiques and discussions that increasingly yield to student-directed problem solving.

Learning Outcomes

This course is designed to assist you in:
• using drawing as a fundamental tool of artistic research and as a robust creative resource in its own right.
• deepening your understanding of both traditional and expanded approaches to drawing and its importance to a wide range of contemporary artists’ practices.
• applying this understanding to creative problem solving in both directed projects and projects of your own design.
• developing an informed critical awareness and analytic vocabulary central to effectively evaluating, communicating and producing drawing-based works in a contemporary context

Course Requirements

Attendance:
As the teaching methods used will include synchronous class discussions, critiques, lectures and workshops, attendance, punctuality and preparedness for the class are critical. Be sure to familiarize yourself with current academic consideration policy (below, under Visual Arts Department Policy) concerning procedures for requesting accommodations for reasons of health or bereavement. Under university regulations, if someone misses more than 15% of their classes (15% is equivalent to missing 8 hours of Lecture and/or Studio Lab, due to absence or lateness, or a combination of both, per semester) without written corroboration for health or bereavement, students can be debarred from participation in final evaluations and/or assignments.

Online Participation and Engagement:
- Students are expected to participate and engage with content as much as possible
- Students can participate during online sessions or post comments to recordings to Owl Forums or VoiceThread as required.
- Students can also participate by interacting in the Forums with their peers and instructors

Studio Work:
Students are expected to work synchronously online from their home work environments during scheduled class times, plus a minimum additional 4 hrs/wk asynchronously out of class. In addition to studio exercises and assignments students are required to keep a sketchbook/journal and have a minimum of 7 new entries ready for presentation each week.

All work for this course must be entirely the student’s own and all sources used in written assignments must be properly cited. All course work must be done specifically for this class alone and be completed punctually by the end of the course.

Evaluation
Studio Projects:
All studio project grades will be based on the student’s ability to clearly demonstrate:
- Understanding of project concepts and ability to communicate that understanding
- Ambition, resourcefulness, inventiveness
- Technical development
- Investment in production and resolution of outcome
- Development and maturity of ideas
- Attendance and participation in class activities

VISUAL ARTS DEPARTMENT POLICIES

Student Conduct:
All students will conduct themselves in a manner that will be consistent with the maturity and academic integrity expected of university students. Student conduct shall be consistent with the general laws of the community and with University regulations. Students shall show regard and respect for the rights, safety, and property of all members of the University community and are expected to act in a responsible manner within the University and the community at large.

Attendance:
A student who misses more than 15% of the course hours, without written corroboration for health or bereavement, can be debarred from writing final exams, or participation in final studio evaluations. Note that if a student consistently is absent from a 3-hour class for 1 hour, they will exceed the 15% cutoff and can be debarred.

Prerequisites:
You are responsible for ensuring that you have successfully completed all course prerequisites and that you have not taken an antirequisite course. Lack of prerequisites may not be used as basis of appeal. If you are not eligible for a course, you may be removed from it at any time, and you will receive no adjustment to your fees. These decisions cannot be appealed.

Plagiarism:
Plagiarism, which may be defined as “The act or an instance of copying or stealing another’s words or ideas and attributing them as one’s own,” will not be tolerated. (Citation excerpted from Black’s Law Dictionary, 1999, 7th ed., p. 1170). This includes presenting the visual or aural work of another creator as your own. Visual or Aural Plagiarism may involve both hand-based media such as drawing, painting, printmaking and sculpture, as well as digital media such as photography, video and sound. It includes work subsequently manipulated or transferred between different media, as well as self-plagiarism – work submitted for assignments previously produced and graded for another course. Similar to textual plagiarism, all student work involving the visual or aural work of others must be appropriately cited/identified whether in print or orally. Failure to do so will lead to similar academic penalties as those identified in Western’s Academic Calendar.

Academic Consideration:
The University recognizes that a student’s ability to meet their academic responsibilities may, on occasion, be impaired by extenuating circumstances, including short-term illness or injury. Reasonable academic consideration is a cooperative process between the University, the student, and academic staff. All participants in the process must act in good faith, and fulfil their respective obligations, if it is to succeed. Students who experience an extenuating circumstance (illness, injury, or other extenuating circumstance) sufficiently significant as to temporarily render them unable to meet academic requirements, may submit a request for academic consideration through the following routes:
(i) Submitting a Self-Reported Absence form, provided that the conditions for submission are met;
(ii) For medical absences, submitting a Student Medical Certificate (SMC) signed by a licensed medical or mental health practitioner, in order to be eligible for Academic Consideration; or
(iii) For non-medical absences, submitting appropriate documentation (e.g., obituary, police report, accident report, court order, etc.) to Academic Counselling in their Faculty of registration, in order to be eligible for academic consideration.

Students seeking academic consideration:
• Are advised to consider carefully the implications of postponing tests or midterm exams or delaying handing in their work;
• Are encouraged to make appropriate decisions, based on their specific circumstances, recognizing that minor ailments (e.g., upset stomach) or upsets (e.g., argument with a friend) are not normally an appropriate basis for a self-reported absence;

• Must communicate with their instructors no later than 24 hours after the end of the period covered by either the self-reported absence or SMC, or immediately upon their return following a documented absence;

• Are advised that all necessary documentation, forms, etc. are to be submitted to academic counselling within two business days after the date specified for resuming responsibilities.

Students who experience an unexpected illness or injury or an extenuating circumstance (48 hours or less) that is sufficiently severe as to temporarily render them unable to meet academic requirements (e.g., attending lectures or labs, writing tests or midterm exams, completing and submitting assignments, participating in presentations) should self-declare using the online Self-Reported Absence portal. This option should be used in situations where the student expects to resume academic responsibilities within 48 hours or less. The following conditions are in place for self-reporting of medical or extenuating circumstances:

a. Students will be allowed a maximum of two self-reported absences between September and April, and one self-reported absence between May and August;

b. The duration of the excused absence will be for a maximum of 48 hours from the time the Self-Reported Absence form is completed through the online portal, or from 8:30am the following morning if the form is submitted after 4:30pm;

c. The duration of the excused absence will terminate prior to the end of the 48 hour period, should the student undertake significant academic responsibilities (e.g., write a test, submit a paper) during that time;

d. The duration of an excused absence will terminate at 8:30am on the day following the last day of classes each semester, regardless of how many days of absence have elapsed;

e. Self-reported absences will not be allowed for scheduled final examinations; for midterm examinations scheduled during the December examination period; or for final lab examinations;

f. Self-reporting may not be used for assessments (e.g., midterm exams, tests, reports, presentations, or essays) worth more than 30% of any given course;

g. Students must be in touch with their instructors no later than 24 hours after the end of the period covered by the Self-Reported Absence form, to clarify how they will be expected to fulfill the academic expectations they may have missed.

Mandatory Policies:
