Prerequisite

Visual Arts History 1040, or the former Visual Arts History 040. You are responsible for ensuring that you have successfully completed all course requirements and that you have not taken an antirequisite course. Enrolment in this course without the normal prerequisite may not be used as the basis of an appeal. If you are not eligible for this course, you will be removed from it at any time, and you will receive no adjustment to your fees. These decisions cannot be appealed.

Course Description

This introductory survey of early medieval art and architecture examines some of the historical events, philosophies, and social and religious movements that helped to shape European and Mediterranean culture from ca. 200 C.E. to the year 1000. Although this era has often been described in restrictive or negative terms (e.g., as “the first Christian millennium” or as “the Dark Ages”), this course aims to demonstrate why this era is more properly regarded as one of the most formative and multicultural periods in the history of Western civilization.

Topics explored include the artistic, spiritual, and political contexts of late antiquity; the development of the Christian cult and its imagery; the “Golden Age” of Byzantium; the artistic and political importance of cities such as Rome and Ravenna; and the emergence of Islam during the seventh and eighth centuries as a major religious, political, and cultural force in the Mediterranean. We will also examine the small-scale, abstract art of the migration era (e.g., objects produced by the Anglo-Saxons and the Vikings), and the political, artistic, and religious culture of the Carolingian and Ottonian empires.

Throughout the term we will investigate many varied forms of medieval visual culture, endeavouring to situate them within their complex early medieval contexts. You are strongly encouraged to visit related collections of medieval objects at the Royal Ontario Museum, the University of Toronto Art Centre (Malcove Collection), and the Detroit Institute of Arts. Please be sure to consult with me about other important collections should you have plans to travel further afield in either North America or Europe.

Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this course students will be able to:

Recognize the relationships that exist between early medieval cultural objects and the contexts of their production, presentation, and circulation

Analyze and compare the characteristics of art and cultural production from different geographic areas of Europe and the Mediterranean

Apply appropriate terminology to carry out visual analyses of works of art, architecture, and media, and gain knowledge of key methodological and theoretical frameworks employed in the study and analysis of art history and visual culture

Identify individual works of medieval art and architecture by name, title, date, medium, and era of production

Participate constructively in group discussions and present findings that demonstrate an intermediate level of visual literacy

Enrich their understanding of twenty-first century art and society via engagement with cultural forms and practices of the past.

REQUIREMENTS

Attendance and Class Participation

Students are expected to attend all class sessions and be prepared for and participate in all lectures, discussions, and/or critiques. Under University regulations, if a student misses 15% of his/her classes without written corroboration for health or bereavement, he/she can be debarred from participation in final tests, evaluations, assignments and/or critiques. If a student is consistently absent from a 3-hour class for one hour, he/she will exceed the 15% cut-off.

Please note that lectures will assume familiarity with the reading assignments (see course schedule below), and that in-class lectures will differ considerably from the textbooks.

Class participation entails more than being bodily present in the room: students are expected to demonstrate engagement with the course material (e.g., contributing to discussions and offering responses and opinions). Students who attend all classes, but who do not participate, will receive no more than 7/10 for this component.
UWO Medical Policy
Students seeking academic accommodation on medical grounds for any missed tests, exams, participation components and/or assignments worth 10% or more of their final grade must apply to the Academic Counselling office of their home Faculty and provide documentation. Academic accommodation cannot be granted by the instructor or department. For the UWO policy on Accommodation for Medical Illness, see:

http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/2015/pg117.html

For the Student Medical Certificate (SMC), see:
http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/medicalform_15JUN.pdf

Mental Health
Students who are in emotional/mental distress should refer to Mental Health@Western http://www.health.uwo.ca/mental_health/ for a complete list of options about how to obtain help.

Writing Assignment and Academic Honesty
There is one major writing assignment during the fall term; a separate document outlining the assignment will be distributed via OWL (see section “Textbooks and OWL” below). All essays must be typed (double-spaced with one-inch margins on the left and right and font size no smaller than Times Roman 12 point). When necessary, they will include proper notes (please be sure to use endnotes, NOT footnotes), bibliography, and illustrations (i.e., photocopies or printouts from the Internet) in addition to the text. All images should be presented as a group at the end of the text (i.e., not inserted into the text of the paper), complete with full captions, including the source of the image. All references, whether directly quoted or paraphrased, must be acknowledged properly in endnotes (see note on Chicago Style citation below).

The University of Western Ontario places a very high value on academic honesty. Plagiarism of any kind (e.g., unacknowledged borrowings from published sources, the Internet or other student papers; close paraphrasing, etc.) is regarded as a major scholarly offence, and appropriate action will be taken. It is imperative that you write your essays in your own words. Consult the section on “Scholastic Offences” in the UWO Academic Calendar:

http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/2015/pg113.html

Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, consult the website above and:

http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/scholastic_discipline_undergrad.pdf

Essays will accepted only in hard copy (i.e., they may not be faxed or forwarded electronically via e-mail). Please note that I gladly accept EARLY, but not late assignments. Please consider the option of handing in your writing assignment prior to the deadline.

Note on Chicago Style citation. When composing endnotes or listing bibliographic references in your writing assignments, please use the conventions in the Chicago Manual of Style. A useful style guide with examples is available on the UWO Libraries website:

Tests

There will be one midterm test and a final examination, each consisting of some combination of the following: multiple choice questions; slide identifications; explanations of terms and/or significant issues; slide comparisons; short essays.

N.B. Students are responsible for being aware of, and fulfilling on time, all assignments. Please note that I gladly accept early, but not late papers. Late assignments will be accepted only in the event of a family or medical emergency, or bereavement, and official documentation will be required in the Academic Counselling office of your home Faculty, as per the UWO Policy; the same holds true in the case of tests and examinations. Any missed or late assignments, except in the case of the above, must be given the grade of “F” [=0].

TEXTBOOKS and OWL

Textbooks:

Copies of these textbooks are available for purchase in the University Bookstore and are on one-day reserve in the D. B. Weldon Library.

OWL:

All students will have access to the course OWL site. This syllabus and separate documents outlining the fall writing assignment will be made available there. In addition, a digital review of selected images will be made available on the site prior to tests. Please note that your primary responsibility is to attend class and to engage with the material discussed. It is to your advantage to review your lecture notes and textbook readings every week.

Other Important Course Policies:

1. Disabled Student Policy: For Western’s Policy on Academic Accommodation for Students with Disabilities see: http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/2015/pg118.html.
   In its efforts to accommodate disabilities appropriately, the approach adopted by the University is collaborative, involving the student requesting the accommodation, the instructor, department (or school or program where applicable), and/or Faculty which provides the accommodation, and Services for Students with Disabilities (SSD) in the Student Development Centre which coordinates the request for and provision of accommodation.”

2. Student Absences on Religious Holy Days: For purposes of this policy “the University has approved a list of dates which are recognized religious holidays which require members of those religions to be absent from the University; this list is updated annually and is available at departmental, Deans’ and Faculty advising Offices.” For Western’s Policy on Religious Holidays see: http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/2015/pg119.html.

3. Electronic Devices: You may use a computer in class to take notes. All other activities (e.g. checking e-mail or social media sites, watching movies, etc.) are prohibited. Students must turn off all cell phones, PDAs, cameras, or similar electronic devices while in the classroom. Under no circumstances are cell phones or any electronic devices to be used or seen during times of examination. Should you need to receive an urgent phone call during class time, I ask that you first notify me at the beginning of class and that you keep your phone on vibrate and step out of the classroom to receive the call.

4. Culture of Respect and Code of Student Conduct: All students will conduct themselves in a manner consistent with the Code of Student Conduct and treat all members of the Western community with respect. See: http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/2015/pg116.html, with link to the full Code of Student Conduct.

5. Enrollment in the course constitutes an agreement to participate in class and to take tests and exams. Make-up tests and exams will not be given except under extreme circumstances (and only with official documentation approved by the Dean’s office).

VAH 2252F --- Early Medieval Art --- Bibliography and Electronic Resources

Bibliography:
Your textbooks contain extensive bibliographic references to recent scholarship on early medieval visual culture. Further (and detailed) bibliography on specific subjects can be obtained from the BHA (Bibliography of the History of Art), which is online at UWO. Go to “Databases by Subject” on the UWO Libraries homepage (then click on “Arts and Humanities” and then on “Visual Arts”). You will also find much useful information under “Visual Arts” after you click on the “Program Guides” heading of the UWO Libraries homepage. You can also consult me for more specific titles and especially for scholarship in languages other than English.

Electronic Resources:
There are countless websites dedicated to the study of art history (see the resources listed under “Visual Arts” in the aforementioned “Program Guides” heading of the UWO Libraries homepage) and to medieval visual culture specifically. For links to some of the sites focusing on medieval art and culture you may wish to consult:

Other Matters Relevant to VAH 2252F

You are encouraged to inform other class members about lectures, events, websites, newspaper notices, exhibitions, etc. of interest for the course. The study of medieval art and visual culture is a lively and exciting area of inquiry that has significant implications for your understanding of the cultural production of other eras, including modern and contemporary art. There is a dynamic culture of the Middle Ages at the University of Western Ontario, in Canada, and in the international arena, and news about events of interest will be announced in class and/or posted on OWL.

Should you plan to go on to advanced work in art history, please be aware that reading knowledge of at least one language other than English is essential: consider taking a language course now, if your timetable permits. The University of Western Ontario participates in a wide array of international exchange programs that may enable you to travel and study in Europe and elsewhere. Information sessions will be advertised in the Western News this fall, and applications are usually due by the end of the first term. The development of an internationalization strategy during your undergraduate years is highly recommended. Such a strategy has the potential to provide you with advantages and opportunities that can help to shape your personal and professional future.

Undergraduate Grading Guidelines - Art History

These guidelines are benchmarks that are not to be followed as rigid regulations. They will be adjusted as appropriate to take into account the level of the course and any specific instructions given by a professor. For example, grades in first-year courses are generally lower than in fourth year.

90-100 (Outstanding, A+)
The writing shows significant originality and exhibits a high degree of critical engagement. Sophisticated synthesis and analysis of the theoretical and conceptual dimensions of the topic are demonstrated. Mastery of complex material and ideas is immediately evident. The topic is treated with sensitivity and subtlety of thought. The quality of the background research is exemplary. Regarding research, all major secondary sources pertaining to the topic have been consulted and proper citation has been used.

80-89 (Excellent, A)
The writing shows originality and exhibits a high degree of critical engagement. Writing is probing through the use of comments and/or questions, and is clearly focused and logically organized. The quality of writing immediately engages the reader. Mastery of complex materials and ideas is demonstrated. The writing is of appropriate length, and demonstrates mastery of techniques so that results are meaningful and not simplistic. Regarding research, a majority of the secondary sources pertaining to the topic have been consulted and proper citation has been used.

75-79 (Very Good, B+)
The writing shows above average analysis, critical thinking and independent thought. Written claims are supported by ample evidence and the components of the topic are well-researched and presented. The work is addressed in reasonable depth and/or breadth and covers material appropriate to the course. Written analysis is organized around focal points and the development of the argument is easily followed. The writer demonstrates an above average ability to write in an intelligible style and to condense material meaningfully and with a concern for priorities of that material. Regarding research, a representative selection of secondary sources pertaining to the topic has been consulted and proper citation has been used.

70-74 (Good, B)
The writing shows a satisfactory attempt at analysis and critical thinking. Written claims are supported by reasonable evidence. The work is addressed in some depth and/or breadth, with references to the appropriate literature and course material. Written analysis is organized around focal points. The text is generally well written and well argued. Regarding research, a somewhat limited selection of secondary sources pertaining to the topic has been consulted and proper citation has been used.

60-69 (Competent, C)
The writing demonstrates adequate engagement with the topic. The writing is on topic and is a reasonable response to material covered in the course, but goes no further. Written facts are stated accurately; the quality of writing is sufficiently intelligible with enough elaboration and enough connections made between ideas to permit a reader to understand the point of the text. Regarding research, an insufficient number secondary sources pertaining to the topic has been consulted but proper citation has been used.

50-59 (Marginal, D)
The writing shows less than adequate engagement with the topic and with the material covered by the course. The writing is a less than adequate summary of sources and/or is considerably off-topic. Written facts are stated inaccurately or ambiguously; the writing style is difficult to follow; there is insufficient elaboration to permit reader's comprehension of relations among ideas; little judgment is shown in selecting detail for inclusion in the text. Regarding research, few secondary sources pertaining to the topic have been consulted; proper citation may or may not have been used.

Below 50 (Unacceptable, F)
The writing demonstrates a failure to comprehend the topic. Written material is disorganized and unintelligible. The work clearly does not meet the minimal requirements of the assignment. Regarding research, secondary sources pertaining to the topic have not been consulted and proper citation has not been used.
