Character wants a good job, plenty of excitement, quest, possible assistance from mentors and companions. By working through language creation, motifs, and structure, this course will help you create and plan a full-length creative project of fantastic literature.

The premise for this course comes from the observation that The Hobbit is a particular retelling of Beowulf, which is itself just one extant version of a folktale known as ATU 301, “The Three Stolen Princesses.” As folktales, all three of these “works” adhere to some basic rules regarding their content, structure, and specific motifs. We will work to understand those rules, and we will explore how those rules are bent, broken, or ignored in contemporary fantasy. Because the folktale is a particular kind of genre, we will stick with “high fantasy” in this course, meaning that we will look at works with “secondary worlds” and attempt to create our own secondary worlds, even as the first step in such creation to create that language that shapes that secondary world.

Required texts

Optional texts (each student will be required to read one of these)

Joe Abercrombie, The Blade Itself and/or Half a King
R. Scott Bakker, The Darkness that Comes Before
Terry Brooks, The Sword of Shannara
Jim Butcher, Furies of Calderon
David Eddings, Pawn of Prophecy
Kate Elliott, Cold Magic
Jennifer Fallon, Wolfblade
Raymond Feist, Magician[: Apprentice]
Terry Goodkind, Wizard's First Rule
Robin Hobb, Assassin's Apprentice
Robert Jordan, The Eye of the World
Mark Lawrence, Prince of Thorns [iffy; post-apocalyptic world, but excellent otherwise]
Ursula K. Le Guin, The Wizard of Earthsea
Jane Lindskold, Through Wolf’s Eyes
Scott Lynch, The Lies of Locke Lamora
George R.R. Martin, A Game of Thrones
Naomi Novik, Spinning Silver [iffy; a Rumpelstiltskin retelling]
Patrick Rothfuss, The Name of the Wind
Brent Weeks, The Black Prism
Tad Williams, The Dragonbone Chair

Recommended further primary reading (secondary material below)

Course Requirements and Grade Allocations

Preliminary tale construction (ungraded; due January 7)
In the first class, students will complete a small-scale version of the course task as a whole, giving a sense of the arc of the project.

Language creation (15%; due January 28)
Students will “create” the language(s) necessary for their secondary worlds, using the linguistic principles outlined in class (maximum 1000 words).

Critical Reading (10%; due February 11)
Students will read and summarize the salient points of one assigned piece of secondary material (written summary handed in: maximum 500 words).

Character Biographies (20%; due March 3)
Students will submit at least three character biographies (maximum 500 words each).

Oral/Written Report (15%; oral March 3 or March 10; written version due March 17)
Students will present an oral report on an optional text (listed above), and submit a written version of the report in the next class (maximum 1000 words).

Final Project (40%; due in class, April 7)
The final project will consist of five parts: 1) a language document; 2) at least three character biographies; 3) a one-page (single-spaced) synopsis of a full-length work of fantasy; 4) an explanation of how that full-length work of fantasy deploys the motifs, movements, and structures we have learned in the course; and 5) an excerpt from the work, one “great” scene (if necessary with an introduction to contextualize the scene). The length of the final part will vary, but it should be in the vicinity of at least 2500 words.

Course Policies

Assignment Format
All assignments are to be typed, and must have your name, course name, section number, and instructor’s name on the first page. Do not use a cover page; these are particularly unnecessary for online submissions. When using sources, you will be expected to follow MLA, APA, or Chicago citation practice.
Submitting Assignments
Assignments are due on the dates specified in the syllabus. Late work will be penalized at 2.5% per day unless I have permitted an extension of the due date. You must contact me ahead of time for an extension and provide a suitable reason (see also the section “Medical Accommodation Policy” below).

Attendance/Participation
This is a senior-level seminar course. Your attendance is expected at every session of the class.

Students may miss up to three hours (the equivalent of one week of class) of class meetings during the term without explanation. That means that the first three class hours you miss will be recorded as absences but excused provided you don’t miss any more. However, if you miss a total of four to nine class hours (the equivalent of up to three full weeks of class), your final grade will be reduced by 10% (e.g. an earned final grade of 80% will be reported as a final grade of 72). If you miss a total of more than nine hours of class meetings (the equivalent of more than three weeks of class meetings) your final grade will be reduced by 15% (e.g. an earned final grade of 80% will be reported as a final grade of 68).

This policy will be waived only for medical or compassionate reasons. If you have good reasons for waiving an absence of one class meeting (e.g. if you’ve missed three hours, and need or want to miss another class meeting) discuss these reasons with your instructor within one week of that absence. If your absence is extended and prolonged (over one week of continuous non-attendance), then you should discuss it with your academic advisor in your home faculty, who may require documentation. That advisor may then contact all of your instructors. See also: “Medical Accommodation Policy” below.

Note: a class meeting missed in order to write a test, exam, or other form of “make-up class” in another course will count as non-attendance, and will attract penalties as defined above if applicable. Instructors at the University of Western Ontario shall not require a student to write a make-up test or similar at times which conflict with that student’s other scheduled class times. If you are asked or “required” to do this, you should immediately contact an academic counsellor in your Dean’s office. If you elect to miss a class in order to write such a test, that is your choice; your absence will not be excused.

Medical Accommodation Policy
Western has a comprehensive policy covering requests for accommodation by students who are not registered with Student Accessibility Services. All students should review this policy here, under the heading “Accommodation for Illness – Undergraduate Students,” noting the procedures, restrictions, and notice requirements:

http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/PolicyPages.cfm?Command=showCategory&PolicyCategoryID=1&SelectedCalendar=Live&ArchiveID=#Page_12

In Writing courses, students covered by this policy who are seeking academic consideration must proceed as follows.

Writing Studies’ Basic Policy: students seeking academic consideration on medical or any other grounds for any missed tests/exams, class attendance/participation components, or late or missed assignments must either initiate a Self-Reported Absence (for a grade component worth up to 30% of their final grade, but excluding final exams scheduled during the exam period) or apply in person to the Academic Counselling or Undergraduate office of their home Faculty and provide a Student Medical Certificate (SMC) or other supporting documentation as required in accordance with official Western policy (linked above).
Students seeking academic consideration must communicate with their instructors no later than 24 hours after the end of the period covered by either:

i. A Self-Reported Absence, or

ii. Academic consideration supported by the Academic Counselling Office.

Exception: in Writing Studies courses, a student seeking academic accommodation on non-medical grounds for any missed in-class tests/exams, class attendance/participation components, or late or missed assignments worth less than 10% of a final grade may first consult directly with her or his instructor, who will – in his or her discretion – elect either to make a decision on the request directly or instruct the student to follow the procedures set out in Writing Studies’ Basic Policy.

Please note that individual instructors will not under any circumstances accept or read medical documentation directly offered by a student, whether in support of an application for accommodation on medical grounds or for related reasons (e.g. to explain an absence from class which may result in a grade penalty under an “Attendance” policy in the course). All medical documentation must be submitted to the Academic Counselling or Undergraduate office of a student’s home Faculty.

Students who are or who feel they should be covered under Student Accessibility Services should review Western policy here:
http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/PolicyPages.cfm?Command=showCategory&PolicyCategoryID=1&SelectedCalendar=Live&ArchiveID=#Page_10

Students who are in emotional/mental distress should refer to MentalHealth@Western: (https://www.uwo.ca/health/) for a complete list of options about how to obtain help.

Scholastic Offences
“Scholastic Offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, at the following Web site: http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/handbook/appeals/scholoff.pdf.”

“Students must write their essays and assignments in their own words. Whenever students take an idea, or a passage of text from another author, they must acknowledge their debt both by using quotation marks where appropriate and by proper referencing such as footnotes or citations. Plagiarism is a major academic offence.”

“All required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for the detection of plagiarism. All papers submitted for such checking will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system. Use of the service is subject to the licensing agreement currently between The University of Western Ontario and Turnitin.com (http://www.turnitin.com).”

Prerequisites
The University Senate requires the following statement to appear on course outlines:
“Unless you have either the requisites for this course or written special permission from your Dean to enroll in it, you may be removed from this course and it will be deleted from your record. This decision may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course for failing to have the necessary prerequisites.”

The prerequisite for this course is permission of the Department.
